Colloque Sur Les Corridors Écologiques Marins Et Côtiers Council of Europe, Countryside Council for Wales, 2003-01-01 This publication contains the proceedings of the fifth meeting of the Committee of Experts for the Development of the pan European Ecological Network held in Istanbul in October 2001 The conference discussed strategies for the conservation of marine and coastal biodiversity focusing on supporting specific policies for the application of the corridor connectivity concept within coastal and marine areas The Sign of Four Arthur Conan Doyle, 1890 Trade and Transport Corridor Management Toolkit Charles Kunaka, Robin Carruthers, 2014-05-07 Trade and transport corridors major routes that facilitate the movement of people and goods between regions and between countries have existed for millennia They enable regions and countries to offer high capacity transport systems and services that reduce trade and transport costs by creating economies of scale Regional corridors are particularly important to landlocked countries often providing the only overland routes to regional and international markets Despite a long and complex history guidance is often lacking on how to design determine the components to include and analyze the impact of corridor projects The Trade and Transport Corridor Management Toolkit fills this void The Toolkit synthesizes the experiences of the World Bank and other development agencies in assessing designing implementing and evaluating the impact of trade and transport corridor projects It saves project developers the task of looking for the best available tools and ensures greater consistency to facilitate comparison and benchmarking The Toolkit will also be of immense value to policy makers in provincial and national governments as well as regional economic institutions for several reasons Corridors affect the space economy of countries they are best developed with clear estimates of the spatial impacts that can be expected A corridor system has multiple components including infrastructure roads railways ports transport and logistics services and regulations it is important to appreciate the linkages between them particularly as the overall performance of a corridor is determined by the weakest component Many parties with varying interests and motivations have a stake in corridor development The Toolkit argues for their full participation in corridor development processes and operations The best functioning modern corridors in the world did not happen by accident they are often the results of coordinated development and cooperation over many years The general principles outlined in this Toolkit should help project teams government officials logistics service providers and the trade community to better appreciate both the importance of good corridor project design and the challenges of and possibilities from improving corridor performance Central Asia and Regional Security Mr P L Dash, Ms Anita Sengupta, Mr Murat M Bakhadirov, 2014-02-15 While security concerns have assumed salience across the globe Afghanistan's proximity to Central Asia has meant that security or perceptions of insecurity dominate the strategic discourse in the region Issues that stand out include the challenges that the Central Asian states will face in terms of stability ethnic tensions radicalization of youth destabilization of commodity flows and energy security and the impact that these could have on Central Asian society

However security cannot just be defined in terms of security at the borders It needs to be defined in cosmopolitan terms through an array of issues like movements across borders radicalism within states the sharing of water and various multilateral attempts at combating insecurity This volume is an attempt to focus on some of these issues that reflect on perceptions of security principally from Indian and Uzbek positions It examines shifts over the last two decades from debates on the geopolitical importance of the region from a great game perspective to the salience of new engagements within the international arena
