The Confidence-Man Herman Melville, 2013-04-29 At sunrise on a first of April there appeared suddenly as Manco Capac at the lake Titicaca a man in cream colors at the water side in the city of St Louis His cheek was fair his chin downy his hair flaxen his hat a white fur one with a long fleecy nap He had neither trunk valise carpet bag nor parcel No porter followed him He was unaccompanied by friends From the shrugged shoulders titters whispers wonderings of the crowd it was plain that he was in the extremest sense of the word a stranger In the same moment with his advent he stepped aboard the favorite steamer Fidele on the point of starting for New Orleans Stared at but unsaluted with the air of one neither courting nor shunning regard but evenly pursuing the path of duty lead it through solitudes or cities he held on his way along the lower deck until he chanced to come to a placard nigh the captain's office offering a reward for the capture of a mysterious impostor supposed to have recently arrived from the East quite an original genius in his vocation as would appear though wherein his originality consisted was not clearly given but what purported to be a careful description of his person followed As if it had been a theatre bill crowds were gathered about the announcement and among them certain chevaliers whose eyes it was plain were on the capitals or at least earnestly seeking sight of them from behind intervening coats but as for their fingers they were enveloped in some myth though during a chance interval one of these chevaliers somewhat showed his hand in purchasing from another chevalier ex officio a peddler of money belts one of his popular safe guards while another peddler who was still another versatile chevalier hawked in the thick of the throng the lives of Measan the bandit of Ohio Murrel the pirate of the Mississippi and the brothers Harpe the Thugs of the Green River country in

Kentucky creatures with others of the sort one and all exterminated at the time and for the most part like the hunted generations of wolves in the same regions leaving comparatively few successors which would seem cause for unalloyed gratulation and is such to all except those who think that in new countries where the wolves are killed off the foxes increase
