Thinking Through the Skin Sara Ahmed, Jackie Stacey, 2003-09-02 This exciting collection of work from leading feminist scholars including Elspeth Probyn Penelope Deutscher and Chantal Nadeau engages with and extends the growing feminist literature on lived and imagined embodiment and argues for consideration of the skin as a site where bodies take form already written upon but open to endless re inscription Individual chapters consider such issues as the significance of piercing tattooing and tanning the assault of self harm upon the skin the relation between body painting and the land among the indigenous people of Australia and the cultural economy of fur in Canada Pierced mutilated and marked mortified and glorified scarred by disease and stretched and enveloping the skin of another in pregnancy skin is seen here as both a boundary and a point of connection the place where one touches and is touched by others both the most private of experiences and the most public marker of a raced sexed and national history

Bodies, Affects, Politics Steve Pile, 2021-04-12 This book seeks to understand the coexistence of bodily regimes and the politics that emerge from the clash between them Presents a novel conceptual model for understanding the relationship between bodies and affects Reworks Ranci's notions of the distribution of the sensible and the aesthetic unconscious Establishes a dynamic and multiple understanding of the repressive distributive and communicative unconscious by rethinking Freudian psychoanalysis Utilizes a variety of empirical materials from Hollywood movies to Freud's case studies Sets its argument about politics within the context of significant social events to ensure its conceptual and empirical material is relevant to the contemporary political moment

Race in the 21st Century John Hartigan (Jr.), 2015 What is the state of race relations in the U S Are we making progress toward ending racial discrimination and prejudice What exactly does race mean In Race in the 21st Century Ethnographic Approaches Second Edition John Hartigan Jr takes an anthropological look at such questions by introducing students to the study of race through qualitative methods In the first text to take an explicitly ethnographic approach Hartigan summarizes and explains the current state of social science knowledge on race in the U S motivating students to think through essential questions about race in relation to their own lives In contrast with many texts Race in the 21st Century focuses not on essential differences between racial or ethnic groups but rather on the commonalities Hartigan concentrates on the particular contexts in which people actively engage and respond to racial meanings and identities In this way he encourages readers to think critically about the meaning of race The second edition of Race in the 21st Century features a new chapter Postracial America which examines contentious arguments about whether or how race still matters in the U S today It engages students fully in the important question of what postracial America might mean or look like
