Successful Enjoyable Selling:

Selling British Columbia Michael Dawson, 2007-10-01 Selling British Columbia is an entertaining examination of the development of the tourist industry in British Columbia between 1890 and 1970. Michael Dawson argues that in order to understand the roots of the fully fledged consumer culture that emerged in Canada after the Second World War it is necessary to understand the connections between the 1930s, 1940s and the postwar era. Cultural producers such as tourism promoters and the state infrastructure played important roles in fostering consumer demand, particularly during the Depression, the Second World War and throughout the postwar era. Dawson draws upon promotional pamphlets, newspapers, advertisements and films as well as archival sources regarding government, civic and international tourism organizations. Central to his book is an examination of the representation of popular imagery and of how aboriginal and British cultures were commodified and marketed to potential tourists. He also looks at the gendered aspect of these promotional campaigns, particularly during the 1940s, and challenges earlier interpretations regarding the relationship between tourism and nature in Canada. Historians have tended to focus on either the first wave of consumerism from the 1880s to the 1920s or else on the era of economic expansion that followed World War Two. As Dawson shows, the 1930-45 period in particular was an important and dynamic one in the creation of Canadian and British Columbian consumer culture. Michael Dawson's highly readable and engaging account of the development of the British Columbia tourist industry will be welcomed by British Columbian and Canadian historians as well as other scholars of tourism and consumerism. Learn to Sell Successfully Simone Janson, 2026-02-24 Also in the 8th revised and improved edition published by a government funded publisher involved in EU programs and a partner of the Federal Ministry of Education you receive the concentrated expertise of renowned experts overview in the book preview embedded in an integrated knowledge system with premium content and 75% advantage. At the same time you do good and support sustainable projects. Because if you want to be successful you have to master the craft of selling. Actually a truism and yet there are numerous bad sellers. Namely those who want to coax customers at any price and persuade them to buy in the sales talk. A sales situation requires much more tact and sensitivity. After all it means responding to the personal wishes and needs of your own target group. However how to do this is no secret knowledge but can be learned with simple means. This book helps you to do so. Knowledge that makes a difference independently documented by its own Wikipedia entry. With its information on demand concept the publishing house has been successful for over 20 years and has received numerous awards. So when you buy the book you are also doing good. The publisher is financially and personally committed to socially relevant projects such as tree planting campaigns, scholarship foundations, sustainable living and many other innovative ideas. The goal of providing you with the best possible content on topics such as career, finance, management, recruiting or psychology goes far beyond the static nature of traditional books. The interactive book not only imparts expert knowledge but also allows you to ask individual questions and receive personal advice. In doing so expertise and technical
