The Bodysurfers Robert Drewe, 2001-09-03 These stories breathe Taut yet teeming with life they are shot through with gritty phrases that catch at one's throat Sydney Morning Herald Set among the surf and sandhills of the Australian beach and the tidal changes of three generations of the Lang family this bestselling collection of short stories is an Australian classic The Bodysurfers vividly evokes the beach with the scent of the suntan oil the sting of the sun and a lazy sensuality all the while hinting at a deep undercurrent of suburban malaise From first publication these poignant and seductive stories marked a major change in Australian literature "The Bodysurfers" by Robert Drewe. The Landscape and its Effects on the Identity of the Characters Anna Rauch, 2014-05-13 Seminar paper from the year 2010 in the subject Didactics for the subject English Pedagogy Literature Studies grade 2 University of Innsbruck Department of English course The Urban and the Rural in Australian Literature language English abstract In my paper I want to talk about the book The Bodysurfers Robert Drewe by focusing on the description of the different landscapes and the way people identify with it I also find it important to mention the mixed feelings of the different characters all of them living by the coast While I was reading the book I could notice the rather different ways of describing the landscapes each narrator and character senses the surroundings differently The environment in which the characters are living is one of the main topics of the book it focuses on the descriptions and provides the reader with the opportunity to live the book and to understand in a better way how important the sea and the beach are for Australians In The Bodysurfers the beach is the most popular and most described landscape It is fantastic how many different ways of seeing and feeling the beach can be found in this book and how different varieties of language can influence the reader by providing him with many ways of understanding the characters The Bodysurfers is not an easy book maybe you have to read it twice but it can give you a perfect possibility to deal with other nations and cultures and to distinguish between different characters and their ways of speaking and telling When I was dealing with my topic I was impressed how one's opinion can change while reading a book e.g. in one story the beach is described as a lonely and quiet place in another story as a sand heap full of rubbish In my paper I want above all to show these different ways of describing on the one hand describing by using different sorts of language and on the other hand describing by feeling and observing the place you live in I want to show that these depictions are the essence of the book and make it vivid because these stories breathe Taut yet teeming with life they are shot through with gritty phrases that catch at one's throat Goodreads The Bodysurfers: Penguin Special Robert Drewe, 2012-04-23 Haunted by the brutal murder of a local couple David heads to his weekend shack with his new lover Lydia and his children from his recently crumbled marriage Together they find escape if only briefly in the ocean and the bush The Bodysurfers the title story of Robert Drewe's classic first collection is a vivid evocation of love passion terror and the beauty of the beach Tropes and Territories Marta Dvorak, W.H. New, 2007-10-26 Tropes and Territories demonstrates how current debates in postcolonial criticism bear on the reading writing and status of short fiction These debates which hinge on competing definitions of trope motif vs rhetorical turn and territory political or aesthetic lead to studies of space place influence and writing and reading practices across cultural divides The essays also explore the character of diasporic writing the cultural significance of oral tale telling and interconnections between socio political issues and strategies of style
