Leung, 2004-04-27 Researchers in management industrial engineering operations and computer science have intensely studied scheduling for more than 50 years resulting in an astounding body of knowledge in this field Handbook of Scheduling Algorithms Models and Performance Analysis the first handbook on scheduling provides full coverage of the most recent and advanced topics on the subject It assembles researchers from all relevant disciplines in order to facilitate cross fertilization and create new scheduling insights The book comprises six major parts each of which breaks down into smaller chapters Part I introduces materials and notation with tutorials on complexity theory and algorithms for the minimization of makespan total completion time dual objectives maximum lateness the number of late jobs and total tardiness Part II is devoted to classical scheduling problems Part III explores scheduling models that originate in computer science operations research and management science Part IV examines scheduling problems that arise in real time systems focusing on meeting hard deadline constraints while maximizing machine utilization Part V discusses stochastic scheduling and queueing networks highlighting jobs that are not deterministic Part VI covers applications discussing scheduling problems in airline process and transportation industries as well as in hospitals and educational institutions

Algorithms - ESA 2000 Mike Paterson, 2003-07-31 This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the 8th Annual European Symposium on Algorithms ESA 2000 held in Saarbrücken Germany in September 2000 The 39 revised full papers presented together with two invited papers were carefully reviewed and selected for inclusion in the book Among the topics addressed are parallelism distributed systems approximation combinatorial optimization computational biology computational geometry external memory algorithms graph algorithms network algorithms online algorithms data compression symbolic computation pattern matching and randomized algorithms Optimal Scheduling with Nested Time Intervals and Three-Dimensional Strip Packing on Comparability Graphs of an Arborescence Order Thomas

Rieger,2015-07-13 This thesis is concerned with scheduling and three dimensional packing problems that arise when restricting to nested intervals either for allocating jobs to time intervals at machines or for positioning boxes within a strip The scheduling problems considered in the first part of this work are motivated by a real world application in rail car maintenance and result in a new type of job characteristic introduced into the methodology of scheduling Being classified as strip packing problems on comparability graphs of an arborescence order the packing problems of the second part of this thesis are further structurally characterized based on the concept of packing classes It turns out that using this characterization these packing problems can equivalently be solved by interval coloring adequate chordal graphs For several variants of above mentioned mathematical optimization problems complexity results are derived and approximation pure heuristical as well as exact solution approaches presented The performance of the approaches is finally discussed based on computational results
