Thinking An Experimental And Social Study:

Thinking Frederic Bartlett, 2024-10-02 First Published in 1958 Thinking Introduces a number of simple experiments which can all be repeated by anybody who is interested They show that the thinker is all the time trying to fill up gaps in information that is available to him in such a manner that there is a good prospect that all other thinkers given the same incomplete information will agree with him How and what are the conditions under which he does this are considered and illustrated a for formal thinking b for the thinking of the experimental scientist c for everyday thinking and d for the thinking of the artist A great many of the processes used in thinking have been developed at a level of bodily skill and long before thinking proper becomes possible at all At the same time it becomes clear as the investigation proceeds that thinking processes have important characteristics and rules peculiar to themselves These also vary according to the fields of information in which the thinker operates There is no doubt that Sir Frederick s experimental study is a work of first importance and will be useful for scholars and researchers of psychology Thinking Sir Frederic Charles Bartlett, 1958

Thinking Sir Frederic Bartlett, 1964 Thinking, 1964 Psychology for the Classroom Johanna Turner, 2017-09-14 Originally published in 1977 Psychology for the Classroom is offered as an aid to people who are learning themselves and helping other people to learn that is to parents students and particularly to teachers The activity of teaching to be successful requires the teacher to understand the behaviour of the learner as fully as possible Some of the insights into human behaviour gained by psychologists may prove helpful to the teacher in complementing his or her experience and intuitive understanding and it is with this in mind that the topics covered in this book have been selected Section one deals with cognitive aspects an understanding of which is essential since cognitive processes are the means by which individuals are able to make sense of their environment Section two considers the social situation in which knowledge and understanding develop i e the way in which social interaction affects learning Section three focuses on the individual stressing that academic achievement depends not only on hard work but is intimately related to an individual s personal development and personality The book will be valuable to psychology students student teachers and teachers on in service courses for its coverage of relevant psychological research and the description of pertinent experiments and studies of the time Its originality lies in the way in which it communicates the importance of teachers using psychology as a basis for forming hypotheses which they can test for themselves not necessarily as researchers but in a mood of personal exploration

Thinking and Problem Solving Richard E. Mayer, 1977 Education for Effective Thinking William Henry Burton, 1960 Thinking as an objective of education Teaching students to think is one of the most commonly expressed aims of education generally and in almost any subject field Authorities almost without end could be cited as upholding this as one aim of education The Harvard Report General Education in a free society to cite but one say Education is not merely the imparting of knowledge but the cultivation of certain aptitudes and attitudes in the mind of the young These abilities in our opinion are to think effectively to communicate thought to make relevant judgments to discriminate among values The abilities listed represent a large part of the subject matter of our book
