Thinking Through The Arts:

Thinking Through the Arts Wendy Schiller,2004-06-01 Thinking Through the Arts draws together a number of different approaches to teaching young children that combine the experience of thinking with the act of expression through art Developed as an inclusive broad ranging and user friendly text Thinking Through the Arts presents the unique insight of teachers as researchers and counters the view that art is emotionally based and therefore irrelevant to thinking and learning The areas covered include drama dance music arts environments technologies museums and galleries literacy cognition international influences curriculum development research and practice Early childhood and primary teachers and students alike will find this book is an invaluable source of new insights for their own teaching Thinking Through the Arts Wendy Schiller,2000 Wendy Schiller brings together a range of approaches to teaching art to young children that combine the experience of thinking with the act of expression Her premise is that art is not just emotionally based and should take into account thinking too The Development of Creative Thinking Through the Arts Carolyn Moeller Retzlaff,1959 Art Matters: Critical Thinking Through Visual Arts Jan Walker,2019-01-11 Designed for beginners Art Matters challenges the reader to experience art as a way to build a personal creative skill set that will benefit them regardless of what career field they pursue Critical Thinking Through Art Dr. Robert L Akikta,Dr. Robert Lee Harris,2018-05-25 Critical Thinking Through Art Unit I This is an artistic workbook to empower the artist within you through critical thinking This book will help you develop and explore many options that will overcome the restraints that block creativity Our motto is not even the sky is the limit Trying this philosophy will directly assist the artist within you You will find new options new choices and new energy to overcome limits and boundaries Working through the workbooks exercises and discussions will reveal new ways of seeing art artists and yourself You will find that sometimes the artist has to dig a little deeper You may have to face your biases and your old ways of creating art Taking this step brings you into a world that overcomes methods that are tailored to your bias and old ways We will show you how you can be the artist that governs your art You are the artist that decides the colors of the sky the shapes of the mountains the sizes of the waves and the forms of life that most interest you Together with this book a powerful and beautiful artist will be honored Thinking Through Art Katy Macleod,Lin Holdridge,2006 The artists philosophers art historians and cultural theorists contributing to this book address the complexity of interpreting art as research and suggest ways in which the visual and the verbal could engage in more productive and open discussions

Thinking Through Craft Glenn Adamson,2007-10 This book provides an introduction to the way that artists working in all media think about craft Dispensing with cliché arguments that craft is art Adamson persuasively makes a case for defining craft in a more nuanced fashion Thinking Through Practice Lesley Duxbury,Elizabeth M. Grierson,Dianne Waite,2008 Each of the writers in this contentious and thought provoking collection is an artist and fine art educator at the School of Art RMIT University In the School of Art it is understood that the processes of undertaking the creative project the experimental works and the testing of ideas right through to the finished artwork is the research itself Thinking Through Practice shows what the process of thinking might mean through art and its practices Each chapter moves us into closer proximity with what it means to think through making and all that is involved in sustained forms of creative practice questioning reviewing reflecting analysing performing speculating relating remembering critiquing constructing and ultimately further questioning

Thinking Through Art Katy Macleod, 2013-01-11

Focusing on a unique arena Thinking Through Art takes an innovative look at artists experiences of undertaking doctorates and asks If the making of art is not simply the formulation of an object but is also the formation of complex ideas then what effect does academic enquiry have on art practice Using twenty eight pictures never before seen outside the artists universities Thinking Through Art focuses on art produced in higher educational environments and considers how the material product comes about through a process of conceiving and giving form to abstract thought It further examines how this form which is research art sits uneasily within academic circles and yet is uniquely situated outside the gallery system The journal articles from eminent scholars artists philosophers art historians and cultural theorists demonstrate the complexity of interpreting art as research and provide students and scholars with an invaluable resource for their art and cultural studies courses

Evolving Creative Mindsets Lynn F. C.

Yau, 2025-08-11 Although the arts have been firmly planted in the Hong Kong school system since the 1950s they are often sacrificed in place of core subjects and preparation for examinations Drawing on over fourteen years of exploration and experience Yau makes the case that arts are critical to cultivating creative mindsets which are our best resource for innovating and responding to challenges in this complex world of sudden changes Through case studies and conversations with practising artists and educators this book demonstrates why arts and education two normally discrete disciplines should be broadly integrated into the local Hong Kong curriculum and how this can be and has been achieved This book is intended for policymakers educators arts heads and artists The volume will also appeal to readers curious about how and why the arts should be foundational to education and capacity building in the twenty first century
