Total Rejuvenation:

Rejuvenation and the Prolongation of Human Efficiency Paul Kammerer, 1923 Cell and Tissue Culture in Forestry J.M. Bonga, D.J. Durzan, 2013-06-29 Since the first edition of our book Tissue Culture in Forestry in 1982 we have witnessed remarkable advances in cell and tissue culture technologies with woody perennials. In addition to forest biologists in government industry and universities we now have molecular biologists, genetic engineers and biochemists using cell and tissue cultures of woody species routinely. Therefore the time has come for an update of the earlier edition. In our present effort to cover new developments we have expanded to three volumes: 1. General principles and Biotechnology; 2. Specific Principles and Methods: Growth and Development; 3. Case Histories: Gymnosperms, Angiosperms and Palms. The scientific barriers to progress in tree improvement are not so much lack of foreign gene expression in plants but our current inability to regenerate plants in true to type fashion on a massive and economic scale. To achieve this in the form of an appropriate biotechnology, cell and tissue culture will increasingly require a better understanding of basic principles in chemistry and physics that determine structural and functional relationships among molecules and macromolecules: proteins, RNA, DNA within cells and tissues. These principles and their relationship with the culture medium and its physical environment, principles of clonal propagation and genetic variation and ultrastructure are discussed in volume one.

The Gift You Give Yourself E. Gaylon McCollough, 2020-05-05 An experienced cosmetic surgeon details surgical and holistic options to help readers achieve their ideal look. In a society driven by appearances we all know the importance of looking our best. The cosmetic industry is overflowing with procedures, products and plans that promise to help us achieve this goal. But true health, success and confidence are more than skin deep. How can you determine which options are best for you? In The Gift You Give Yourself Dr. E. Gaylon McCollough invites readers to become more informed and better prepared to develop a life plan personalized to their own goals. With more than three decades of experience in facial plastic surgery and Rejuvenology™ he not only reveals the secrets of plastic surgery but also explores how diet and nutrition, skin care and understanding the mind-body connection can keep you feeling and looking your best for longer than you might have thought possible. Dr. McCollough's highly successful holistic approach will leave you ready to embark on the journey to becoming and remaining the you of your dreams. Praise for The Gift You Give Yourself: Anybody who is thinking of having any procedure should read The Gift You Give Yourself. Paul Nassif MD, star of TV's Botched. I enjoyed the honesty of Dr. McCollough; he goes into every detail about why your body might be appearing to age quicker than others and many times it is because of a vitamin deficiency. I like that he discusses surgical and non-surgical choices and lifestyles for even the average person to feel and look beautiful. San Francisco Book Review.
