The Actor and the Character Vladimir Mirodan, 2018-11-12 Transformative acting remains the aspiration of many an emerging actor and constitutes the achievement of some of the most acclaimed performances of our age: Daniel Day-Lewis as Lincoln, Meryl Streep as Mrs Thatcher, Anthony Hopkins as Hannibal Lecter, the list is extensive and we all have our favourites. But what are the physical and psychological processes which enable actors to create characters so different from themselves? To understand this unique phenomenon, Vladimir Mirodan provides both a historical overview of the evolution of notions of character in Western theatre and a stunning contemporary analysis of the theoretical implications of transformative acting. The Actor and the Character surveys the main debates surrounding the concept of dramatic character and, contrary to recent trends, explains why transformative actors conceive their characters as independent of their own personalities. Describes some important techniques used by actors to construct their characters by physical means: work on objects, neutral and character masks, Laban movement analysis, Viewpoints, etc. Examines the psychology behind transformative acting from the perspectives of both psychoanalysis and scientific psychology and, based on recent developments in psychology, asks whether transformation is not just acting folklore but may actually entail temporary changes to the brain structures of the actors The Actor and the Character speaks not only to academics and students studying actor training and acting theory but contributes to current lively academic debates around character This is a compelling and original exploration of the limits of acting theory and practice psychology and creative work in which Mirodan boldly re examines some of the fundamental assumptions of actor training and some basic tenets of theatre practice to ask What happens when one of us becomes somebody else Being in Time to the Music David Ross,2008-12-18 Being in time to the music from the ground up is a work in phenomenology where this term is broadly defined comprehending Plato Heidegger Hegel and Marx The most direct referent is Hegel together with the theoretical revolution that he initiated with Phenomenology of Mind This text s more general purpose is to set the tone for a 21st communism based upon the idea of dancing with death assuming full responsibility for one s mortality and abandoning the self to love as the meaning of existence This dance is choreographed through my conversations with the above mentioned writers In conversing with them I aim to displace if not usurp them from the throne of honour which is nothing more than the authority borrowed from me By this I do not intend to deny completely their other to me character However they exist or even figure for me both in the sense of of count having importance as those that I read and by which I read myself They have borrowed my authority namely my own potential to be an author So reading them is to re assume that borrowed authority The life of the reader to paraphrase Barthes begins with the death of the author Outing; Sport, Adventure, Travel, Fiction ,1907 Eclectic Magazine ,1905 True and False David Mamet,2011-09-07 One of our most brilliantly iconoclastic playwrights takes on the art of profession of acting with these words invent nothing deny nothing speak up stand up stay out of school Acting schools interpretation sense memory The Method David Mamet takes a jackhammer to the idols of contemporary acting while revealing the true heroism and nobility of the craft He shows actors how to undertake auditions and rehearsals deal with agents and directors engage audiences and stay faithful to the script while rejecting the temptations that seduce so many of their colleagues Bracing in its clarity exhilarating in its common sense True and False is as shocking as it is practical as witty as it is instructive and as irreverent as it is inspiring The Eclectic Magazine of Foreign Literature, Science, and Art ,1885 McClure's Magazine ,1902
