Sessional Papers Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons,1907 Vocational Education in European Regions Paolo Bertuletti,Johannes Karl Schmees,Fabienne-Agnes Baumann,Dietmar Frommberger,Francesco Magni,2025-02-11 Comparative studies on vocational education and training VET structures employ various theoretical approaches leading to numerous classifications of national VET systems over time However these classifications often oversimplify the complexity of local labour and training ecosystems This book summarises the research findings of a joint project between researchers from Osnabr ck University Germany and the University of Bergamo Italy funded by the German Academic Exchange Service DAAD The project compared VET structures in European regions specifically Lower Saxony Germany and Lombardy Italy In this context region refers to sub national geographical divisions coinciding with political administrative boundaries The project paid particular attention to the apprenticeship systems in both regions This regional focus approvided valuable insights into regional specificities of VET structures that may have remained hidden when comparing national systems Handbook of Environmental History in Japan Fujihara Tatsushi,2025-10-01 Japan a land plagued by volcanoes earthquakes and typhoons yet blessed with a climate suitable for all manner of agriculture and forestry and positioned where ocean currents collide and bring an abundance of the ocean s resources to its people a country which moved quickly from an agrarian pre industrial society to become one of the world s great economic powerhouses in only a few decades spoiling water air and land in the process bringing misery to many of its people a country with expansionist desires colonizing neighboring lands leading to war defeat destruction and for the first time in history nuclear devastation and its aftermath a land and its people which share a remarkable resilience and ability to evaluate and correct their mistakes and renew their trajectory towards a better future The sixteen chapters of the Handbook of Environmental History in Japan

Citizenship education Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Education and Skills Committee,2007-03-08 In light of the recommendations of the Crick report on citizenship education Education for citizenship and the teaching of democracy which can be downloaded at http://www.qca.org.uk/downloads/6123\_crick\_report\_1998.pdf published in September 1998 the subject was introduced into the school curriculum in 2002 on a compulsory basis for secondary schools and as part of the non statutory framework for primary schools The Committee s report assesses the progress made during the last four years to deliver quality citizenship programmes and examines the barriers that exist to its successful implementation It finds that when well done citizenship education motivates and inspires young people but the quality and extent of these programmes are still inconsistent across the country This patchiness needs to be tackled head on and progress accelerated requiring strong support from the DfES and Ministers as well as action from those on the ground The Committee welcomes the Government's decision to accept the recommendations of the report by Sir Keith Ajegbo which highlighted the need for citizenship curriculum to have a closer focus on issues of identity diversity and belonging More can be done to disseminate between settings good practice information about approaches that are working in other institutions particularly in relation to whole school or college approaches that develop opportunities for active citizenship although it is essential that programmes are locally owned and relevant to the particular context The development of the workforce is also important to the success of citizenship education and although the expansion of the Continuing Professional Development CPD citizenship certificate programme is welcome more resources are needed to develop capacity in initial teacher training places for citizenship education
