Principles of Power Engineering Analysis Robert C. Degeneff, M. Harry Hesse, 2011-12-20 This classroom tested graduate level text presents the basic tools required to understand the components in an electric power transmission system. It explains from first principles the expressions that predict the performance of transmission systems and transformers. The authors then extend these concepts to balanced three phase systems and unbalanced systems. They introduce symmetrical component analysis of transmission systems, three phase transformers and faulted systems. They also describe the design of untransposed transmission lines and discuss other analysis component systems. A solutions manual is available for qualifying instructors.

Fundamentals of Building Energy Dynamics Bruce D. Hunn, 1996. Fundamentals of Building Energy Dynamics assesses how and why buildings use energy and how energy use and peak demand can be reduced. It provides a basis for integrating energy efficiency and solar approaches in ways that will allow building owners and designers to balance the need to minimize initial costs, operating costs and life cycle costs with need to maintain reliable building operations and enhance environmental quality both inside and outside the building. Chapters trace the development of building energy systems and analyze the demand side of solar applications as a means for determining what portion of a building s energy requirements can potentially be met by solar energy Following the introduction the book provides an overview of energy use patterns in the aggregate U S building population Chapter 3 surveys work on the energy flows in an individual building and shows how these flows interact to influence overall energy use Chapter 4 presents the analytical methods techniques and tools developed to calculate and analyze energy use in buildings while chapter 5 provides an extensive survey of the energy conservation and management strategies developed in the post energy crisis period The approach taken is a commonsensical one starting with the proposition that the purpose of buildings is to house human activities and that conservation measures that negatively affect such activities are based on false economies The goal is to determine rational strategies for the design of new buildings and the retrofit of existing buildings to bring them up to modern standards of energy use The energy flows examined are both large scale heating systems and small scale choices among appliances Solar Heat Technologies Fundamentals and Applications Volume 4
