Unexpected Universe Of Doris Lessing:

The Unexpected Universe of Doris Lessing Katherine Fishburn, 1985-12-06 In this first study of Doris Lessing's science fiction Fishburn devotes a chapter to each of Lessing's seven novels Her major argument is that Lessing uses these novels to change our perception of reality by describing worlds that are simultaneously similar to and different from our own Of particular importance is the fact that each narrator by functioning as an intermediary or guide leader helps skeptical readers to experience the alien worlds of Lessing's imagination As she traces the development of these seven narrators Fishburn shows how they eventually fulfill the role of the idealized author Lessing described in The Small Personal Voice In examining how these texts challenge us to change Fishburn discusses the influence of Marxist and Sufi thought on Lessing and also points out the striking similarity between Lessing's philosophy of wholeness and the discoveries of modern physics

The Fiction of Doris Lessing Ratna Raman, 2021-04-30 Doris Lessing 1919-2013 a prolific contemporary author was awarded the Nobel Prize in Literature in 2007 for her life work Examining five decades of Lessing's unique life narrative strategies and the literary traditions that she drew upon and improvised this book highlights her extraordinary significance as a writer of our times and for our times Lessing's fiction and non fiction provide a seminal understanding of the key issues that shaped the twentieth century Autodidactic and keenly interested in the world around her Lessing flagged the problems of racism in Africa the inequity of class in modern England the limitations of white middle class women's movements that overlooked the rights of women across race and class the marginalisation of individuals the horror of nuclear war and the need for disarmament and the hazardous global expansion in the face of unrelenting technological progress Further she raised the concern of the atomisation of modern families violence and the urgent need for alternate modes of viewing voicing anxieties decades ahead of other contemporary writers Making futuristic projections through innumerable genres of writing such as realistic narratives memoirs diaries and science fiction Lessing examines myth psychoanalysis and Marxist perspectives engaging with a gamut of experiences that have defined modernity and sets up feminist blueprints that challenge atrophying patriarchal hegemonies

British Women Writing Fiction Abby H.P. Werlock, 2000-02-09 Original essays by American and British scholars offer a reader friendly introduction to the work of Angela Carter Doris Lessing and a dozen other British women writers British women in the second half of the 20th century have produced a body of work that is as diverse as it is entertaining This book offers an informal jargon free introduction to the fiction of sixteen contemporary writers either brought up or now living in England from Muriel Spark to Jeanette Winterson British Women Writing Fiction presents a balanced view comprising women writing since the 1950s and 1960s those who attracted critical attention during the 1970s and 1980s and those who have burst upon the literary scene more recently including African Caribbean and African women The essays show how all of these writers treat British subjects and themes sometimes from radically different perspectives and how those who are daughters of immigrants see themselves as women writing on the margins of society

Abby Werlock's introduction explores the historical and aesthetic factors that have contributed to the genre showing how even those writers who began in a traditional vein have created experimental work. The contributors provide complete bibliographies of each writer's works and selected bibliographies of criticism. Exceptional both in its breadth of subjects covered and critical approaches taken, this book provides essential background that will enable readers to appreciate the singular merits of each writer. It offers an approach toward better understanding favorite authors and provides a way to become acquainted with new ones.

Doris Lessing Newsletter, 2000 Spiritual Exploration in the Works of Doris Lessing Phyllis Perrakis, 1999-04-30 Though Doris Lessing never explicitly refers to spirituality in her works, she nonetheless explores spiritual issues throughout her texts. This book examines the prominence of spirituality in her writings. The volume provides both close readings of individual works and sweeping surveys of her nearly fifty-year career. The contributors employ a variety of theoretical perspectives such as systems theory, feminist studies of the body and of androgyny, postcolonial theories, mythic prophecy, and intersubjective psychology. The contributors reveal that Lessing's presentation of spirituality is neither rigid nor orthodox, neither the product of the split between the body and the soul nor anchored in formal systems of the past or present. The volume is divided into three sections. The first, on spirituality manifested in everyday life, examines individual works in which ordinary experiences such as growing old or struggling to adopt to the difficulties of married life comment on spiritual concerns. Included are chapters on The Diaries of Jane Somers and The Marriages Between Zones Three, Four, and Five. The second section contains chapters on the formation and dissolution of individual identity for characters at different stages of the life cycle and the parallel changes within societies at different stages of cultural collapse. The third part presents chapters on the larger patterns that inform many of Lessing's works with attention either to individual texts or to clusters of her writings.

Modern British Women Writers Vicki K. Janik, Del Ivan Janik, 2002-11-30 The 20th century witnessed several major cultural movements including modernism, anti-modernism, and postmodernism. These and other means of understanding and perceiving the world shaped the literature of that era, and with the rise of feminism resulted in a particularly rich body of literature by women writers. This reference includes alphabetically arranged entries on 58 British women writers of the 20th century. Some of these writers were born in England, while others such as Katherine Mansfield and Doris Lessing came from countries of the former Empire or Commonwealth. The volume also includes entries for women of color such as Kamala Markandaya and Buchi Emecheta. Each entry is written by an expert contributor and includes an overview of the writer's background, an analysis of her works, an assessment of her achievements, and lists of primary and secondary sources. The volume closes with a selected general bibliography.

Roscoe,2007-10-12 Columbia s guides to postwar African literature paint a unique portrait of the continent s rich and diverse literary traditions This volume examines the rapid rise and growth of modern literature in the three postcolonial nations of Zimbabwe Malawi and Zambia It tracks the multiple political and economic pressures that have shaped Central African writing since the end of World War II and reveals its authors heroic efforts to keep their literary traditions alive in the face of extreme poverty and AIDS Adrian Roscoe begins with a list of key political events Since writers were composing within both colonial and postcolonial contexts he pays particular attention to the nature of British colonialism especially theories regarding its provenance and motivation Roscoe discusses such historical figures as David Livingstone Cecil Rhodes and Sir Harry Johnston as well as modern power players including Robert Mugabe Kenneth Kaunda and Kamuzu Banda He also addresses efforts to create a literary historical record from an African perspective an account that challenges white historiographies in which the colonized was neither agent nor informer A comprehensive alphabetical guide profiles both established and emerging authors and further illustrates issues raised in the introduction Roscoe then concludes with a detailed bibliography recommending additional reading and sources At the close of World War II the people of Central Africa found themselves mired in imperial fatigue and broken promises of freedom This fueled a desire for liberation and a major surge in literary production and in this illuminating guide Roscoe details the campaigns for social justice and political integrity for education and economic empowerment and for gender equity participatory democracy rural development and environmental care that characterized this exciting period of development
