

NOTHING GOLD CAN STAY

BY ROBERT FROST

Nature's first green is gold,
Her hardest hue to hold.
Her early leaf's a flower;
But only so an hour.
Then leaf subsides to leaf.
So Eden sank to grief,
So dawn goes down to day.
Nothing gold can stay.

A Nature Poem for Every Night of the Year Jane McMorland Hunter, 2020-09-08. A calming collection of nature poems to help you relax and unwind at the end of every day. Now more than ever, we're all in need of a daily fix of the natural world to comfort and distract us from the cares of everyday life. Keep this beautiful book by your bedside and enjoy a dreamy stroll through nature every evening just before you go to sleep. All the great, time-honoured poets are here: William Wordsworth, John Keats, Emily Dickinson, Robert Bridges, along with some newer and less well-known poetic voices. The poems reflect and celebrate the changing seasons: read Emily Brontë on bluebells in spring and Edward Thomas's evocative Adlestrop in summer, then experience golden autumn with Hartley Coleridge and William Blake's To Winter. Beautifully illustrated with scenes from each season, this wonderful book deserves a place on your bedside table for years to come.

A Nature Poem for Every Day of the Year Jane McMorland Hunter, 2020-11-27. 365 poems celebrating nature and the changing seasons. This is the perfect bedside companion for any nature or poetry fan, featuring famous odes from big-name poets alongside unsung poems from less well-known writers. Each poem is chosen to chime with the natural world through the seasons. Spring is a time of hope, a season of new life with William Wordsworth's daffodils, John Clare's lambs, and Christina Rossetti's birdsong. Summer shifts into a time of leisure with long, idyllic holidays in the countryside. According to Henry James, the two most beautiful words in the English language were summer and afternoon, a sentiment echoed by Edward

Thomas and Emily Dickinson John Keats William Blake and W H Auden are the poets we associate with autumn and this is possibly the most poetic season The natural world and the human one hold onto the last lingering memories of summer before they turn to face the oncoming hardships of winter Amy Lowell and George Meredith perfectly frame this time of year with their silver fringed leaves and crimson berries Winter can be savoured in poetry rather than endured bleak grey days are transformed into a world of glittering frost and snow blanketed landscapes Even in the darkest days life continues and soon we can turn our attention to the rebirth of spring A wonderful collection of poems that help mark the daily turn of the seasons and all the rituals marking the significant moments of the year from Candlemas to Christmas

The Life Around Us: Selected Poems on Nature Denise Levertov, 2014-10-10 I have savored her poems like salt like honey Sam Hamill The American Poetry Review As Denise Levertov comments in her brief foreword to The Life Around Us she has shared with most poets in every time and place an ardent love of what my eyes and other senses revealed to me in the world we call nature Yet in this selection of sixty two poems chosen by the author celebration and fear of loss are necessarily conjoined The Life Around Us shows us both the eternal renewal of the natural world and its imperilment In these last few decades of the 20th century it has become ever clearer to all thinking people that although we humans are a part of nature ourselves we have become in multifarious ways an increasingly destructive element within it shaking and breaking the great web perhaps irremediably

Nature Poetry Z. Poetry, 2016-12-18 In Z Publishing's fifth poetry anthology twenty five international poets come together to share their words on the natural world With nearly 100 poems in total the anthology can appeal to all who appreciate nature poetry and may just introduce you to your new favorite poet Having begun as a blog in the fall of 2015 Z Publishing LLC is currently transitioning into book publishing This transition is in response to the problem plaguing the publishing world For writers finding new readers can be tremendously difficult and for readers finding new talented authors with whom they identify is like finding a needle in a haystack With Z Publishing no longer will anyone have to go about this process alone By producing anthologies of multiple authors rather than single author volumes Z Publishing hopes to harbor a community of readers and writers bringing all sides of the industry closer together
