AECOM, 2018-10-09 Strong output demand over the last year has stretched the industry. The issues are being felt by all firms across the delivery chain, from clients to subcontractors. Capacity constraints almost always manifest themselves in prices. Increased tender prices have become the primary symptom of these supply-side issues. The main driver of new work output growth over the last 18 months is slowing. Both the public and private housing sectors are quickly reversing all of their recent upward trends when looked at on a yearly growth basis. The counterpoint to this is that the yearly growth figures are still positive, meaning that new work continues to flow. SPON S ARCHITECTS AND BUILDERS PRICE BOOK 2016 compiled

Spon's Architects' and Builders' Price Book 2022 AECOM,2021-09-23 A range of factors are all combining to propel input cost inflation Higher international logistics costs returning demand from industry workload and higher global metals prices are some of the ingredients to quicker building cost inflation Whilst some EU materials exporters to the UK are adjusting to Brexit other EU exporters initially smaller or specialist firms hit proportionally harder are now deciding not to supply the UK at all because the additional red tape involved makes it not commercially viable If this trend replicates across the whole EU to UK supply chain visible disruption and higher prices are likely until other sources of supply begin to increase in volume and step in to address these supply issues Among other exporters continuing to supply the UK significant price increases are being applied to cover the permanent Brexit non tariff barriers and additional administrative processes
