War Plays:

War Plays by Women Agnes Cardinal, Elaine Turner, Claire M. Tylee, 2013-10-11 This anthology consists of ten plays from countries involved in the First World War including plays from Germany and France never before available in translation Representing a range of dramatic forms from radio play to street epic from comic sketch to musical this anthology includes plays from Gertrude Stein Muriel Box Marion Wentworth Craig Dorothy Hewett Berta Lask Marie Leneru Wendy Lill Alice Dunbar Nelson and Christina Reid Highly successful in their day these plays demonstrate how women have attempted to use theatre to achieve social change The collection explores the historical development of theatrical conventions and genres and the historical context of social and gender issues The New War Plays J. Boll, 2013-10-18 How can war be represented on stage How does the theatre examine the structures leading to violence and war and explore their transformation of societies Springing from the discussion about New Wars in the age of globalisation this interdisciplinary study demonstrates how these New Wars bring forth new plays about war War Plays by Women Claire M. Tylee, Elaine Turner, Agnes Cardinal, 1999 This anthology consists of ten plays from countries involved in the First World War It explores the historical development of theatrical conventions and genres and the historical context of social and gender issues The War Plays Edward Bond, 1991 This volume brings together Edward Bond's three war plays Red Black and Ignorant The Tin Can People and Great Peace Drama Magazine, 1924 The War Play Dilemma Diane E. Levin, 2006 As violence in the media and media linked toys increases parents and teachers are also seeing an increase in children's war play The authors have revised this popular text to provide more practical guidance for working with children to promote creative play and for positively influencing the lessons about violence children are learning Using a developmental and sociopolitical viewpoint the authors examine five possible strategies for resolving the war play dilemma and show which best satisfy both points of view banning war play taking a laissez faire approach allowing war play with specified limits actively facilitating war play and limiting war play while providing alternative ways to work on the issues New for the Second Edition are more anecdotal material about adults and children's experiences with war play including examples from both home and school settings greater emphasis on the impact of media and commercialization on children's war play including recent trends in media programming marketing and war toys expanded discussion about the importance of the distinction between imitative and creative war play and summary boxes of key points directed at teachers or parents New information about violent video games media cross feeding and gender development and sex role stereotyping The Drama, 1919 Broadway Goes to War Robert L. McLaughlin, Sally E. Parry, 2021-06-08 The American theater was not ignorant of the developments brought on by World War II and actively addressed and debated timely controversial topics for the duration of the war including neutrality and isolationism racism and genocide and heroism and battle fatigue Productions such as Watch on the Rhine 1941 The Moon is Down 1942 Tomorrow the World 1943 and A Bell for Adano 1944 encouraged public discussion of the war's impact on daily life and raised critical questions about the conflict well before other forms of popular media American drama of the 1940s is frequently overlooked but the plays performed during this eventful decade provide a picture of the rich and complex experience of living in the United States during the war years McLaughlin and Parry's work fills a significant gap in the history of theater and popular culture showing that American society was more divided and less idealistic than the received histories of the WWII home front and the entertainment industry recognize
