Hugo Carl Wilhelm Haenisch

Stoning Mary:

Stoning Mary Debbie Tucker Green, 2005 Debbie Tucker Green's Stoning Mary is a play that explores everyday reality in an unstable war-torn country and asks what it would be like if these things were happening here. The play was first performed at the Royal Court Jerwood Theatre Downstairs London on 1 April 2005. Contemporary British Theatre V.

Angelaki, 2015-12-25 This edited collection brings together a team of internationally prominent academics and delivers cutting edge discourse on the strongly emerging tradition of experimentation in contemporary British theatre redefining what the dramatic stands for today. History of the Kimball Family in America, from 1634 to 1897 Leonard Allison Morrison, Stephen Paschall Sharples, 1897

Contemporary Women Playwrights Penny Farfan, Lesley Ferris, 2014-01-23 Breaking new ground in this century this wide-ranging collection of essays is the first of its kind to address the work of contemporary international women playwrights.

The book considers the work of established playwrights such as Caryl Churchill, Marie Clements, Lara Foot, Newton Maria Irene Fornes, Sarah Kane, Lisa Kron, Young Jean Lee, Lynn Nottage, Suzan-Lori Parks, Djanet Sears, Caridad Svich, and Judith Thompson, but it also foregrounds important plays by many emerging writers. Divided into three sections: Histories, Conflicts, and Genres, the book explores such topics as the feminist history play, solo performance, transcultural dramaturgies, the identity play, the gendered terrain of war, and eco-drama, and encompasses work from the United States, Canada, Latin America, Oceania, South Africa, Egypt, and the United Kingdom. With contributions from leading international scholars and an introductory overview of the concerns and challenges facing women playwrights in this new century, Contemporary Women Playwrights explores the diversity and power of women's playwriting since 1990, highlighting key voices and examining crucial critical and theoretical developments within the field. A Narratology of Drama Christine Schwanecke, 2022-01-19

This volume argues against Gérard Genette's theory that there is an insurmountable opposition between drama and narrative and shows that the two forms of storytelling have been productively intertwined throughout literary history. Building on the idea that plays often incorporate elements from other genres, especially narrative ones, the present study theorises drama as a fundamentally narrative genre. Guided by the question of how drama tells stories, the first part of the study delineates the general characteristics of dramatic narration and zooms in on the use of narrative forms in drama. The second part proposes a history of dramatic storytelling from the Renaissance to the twenty-first century that transcends conventional genre boundaries. Close readings of exemplary British plays provide an overview of the dominant narrative modes in each period and point to their impact in the broader cultural and historical context of the plays. Finally, the volume argues that throughout history, highly narrative plays have had a performative power that reached well beyond the stage: dramatic storytelling not only reflects socio-political realities but also largely shapes them. Contemporary European Playwrights Maria M.

Delgado, Bryce Lease, Dan Rebellato, 2020-07-22 Contemporary European Playwrights presents and discusses a range of key writers that have radically reshaped European theatre by finding new ways to express the changing nature of the continent's society and culture and whose work is still in dialogue with Europe today Traversing borders and languages this volume offers a fresh approach to analyzing plays in production by some of the most widely performed European playwrights assessing how their work has revealed new meanings and theatrical possibilities as they move across the continent building an unprecedented picture of the contemporary European repertoire With chapters by leading scholars and contributions by the writers themselves the chapters bring playwrights together to examine their work as part of a network and genealogy of writing examining how these plays embody and interrogate the nature of contemporary Europe Written for students and scholars of European theatre and playwriting this book will leave the reader with an understanding of the shifting relationships between the subsidized and commercial the alternative and the mainstream stage and political stakes of playmaking in European theatre since 1989

Stage Business and the Neoliberal Theatre of London Alex Ferrone, 2021-01-21 This book examines contemporary English drama and its relation to the neoliberal consensus that has dominated British policy since 1979 The London stage has emerged as a key site in Britain's reckoning with neoliberalism On one hand many playwrights have denounced the acquisitive values of unfettered global capitalism on the other plays have more readily revealed themselves as products of the very market economy they critique their production histories and formal innovations uncomfortably reproducing the strategies and practices of neoliberal labour markets Stage Business and the Neoliberal Theatre of London thus arrives at a usefully ambivalent political position one that praises the political power of the theatre its potential as a form of resistance to the neoliberal rationality that rides roughshod over democratic values while simultaneously attending to the institutional bondage that constrains it For of course the theatre itself everywhere straddles the line of capitulating to the marketization of our cultural life

Contemporary Black British Playwrights L. Goddard, 2015-02-17 This book examines the socio political and theatrical conditions that heralded the shift from the margins to the mainstream for black British Writers through analysis of the social issues portrayed in plays by Kwame Kwei Armah Debbie Tucker Green Roy Williams and Bola Agbaje
