Index to Short Stories, 1929 Untold Stories in Organizations Michal Izak, Linda Hitchin, David Anderson, 2014-11-13 The field of organizational storytelling research is productive vibrant and diverse Over three decades we have come to understand how organizations are not only full of stories but also how stories are actively making sustaining and changing organizations This edited collection contributes to this body of work by paying specific attention to stories that are neglected edited out unintentionally omitted or deliberately left silent Despite the fact that such stories are not voiced they have a role to play in organizational analysis The chapters in this volume variously explore how certain realities become excluded or silenced The stories that remain below the audible range in organizations offer researchers an access to study political practices which marginalise certain organisational realities whilst promoting others This volume offers a further contribution by paying heed to silence and the processes of silencing These silences influence the choice of issues on organisational agendas the choice of audience s to which these discourses are addressed and the ways of addressing them In exploring these relatively understudied terrains Untold Stories in Organizations comprises an important contribution to the organizational storytelling space opening paths for new trajectories in storytelling research The Budget story books Budget story books, 1894 Divine Stories, 2013-02-08 Divine Stories is the inaugural volume in a landmark translation series devoted to making the wealth of classical Indian Buddhism accessible to modern readers The stories here among the first texts to be inscribed by Buddhists highlight the moral economy of karma illustrating how gestures of faith especially offerings can bring the reward of future happiness and ultimate liberation Originally contained in the Divyavadana an enormous compendium of Sanskrit Buddhist narratives from the early Common Era the stories in this collection express the moral and ethical impulses of Indian Buddhist thought and are a testament to the historical and social power of narrative Long believed by followers to be the actual words of the Buddha himself these divine stories are without a doubt some of the most influential stories in the history of Buddhism History and Stories of Nebraska Addison Erwin Sheldon, 1919

herself but also with her daughter s and son s and the Irish father achieved importance in discussions around the institutionalised and celebrated construct of the Irish family Either carried out in contemporary fiction or in the solid corpus of feminist theory based on psychoanalysis and social learning theory to mention but two of the possible approaches these contemporary discussions were not by any means new but they were rather accelerated by globalisation capitalism and change Nonetheless it was already in the wake of 1970s when the second wave of feminism left the figure of the Irish mother vulnerable to figurative dissection for her involvement in the preservation and consolidation of the patriarchal tapestry carefully knitted by the corporatist partnership between the Church and the State over several decades an unswerving bond well highlighted by Anne Enright s words at the beginning of this text In both Irelands the durable patriarchal system was built upon strong structures of power disempowerment and repression functioning in relation to gender and transgenerational regulations These and other recent perspectives such as Palko s on the cultural negotiations of the definition of a good mother articulate the role of the Irish mummy in isolation and in relation to the individualisation emancipation autonomy and the regulation or restriction of her daughters and sons sexualities and attempt to understand both sides of the dyad their motivations their actions and silences their joys and their traumatic experiences The present study attempts to be encompassing despite its limited nature motivated as it is by the flourishing contemporary Irish literature and artistic creativity of these later decades The chronology of this project aims at covering the contemporary literary perspectives on motherhood in works written either by male or female Irish or foreign authors since the 1990s up to contemporaneity in nowadays post Celtic Tiger era
