

If EVERYONE sees people, situations,
the world DIFFERENTLY...

Is this a good / bad thing?

Is what we read /see true?

Are there any actual “facts”?

What factors shape our perceptions of the world?

How does perception/perspective affect everything we know or learn?

Hegel, Husserl and the Phenomenology of Historical Worlds Tanja Staehler, 2016-12-07 GWF Hegel famously described philosophy as its own time apprehended in thoughts reflecting a desire that we increasingly experience namely the desire to understand our complex and fast changing world But how can we philosophically describe the world we live in When Hegel attempted his systematic account of the historical world he needed to conceive of history as rational progress to allow for such description After the events of the twentieth century we are rightfully doubtful about such progress However in the twentieth century another German philosopher Edmund Husserl attempted a similar project when he realised that a philosophical account of our human experience requires attending to the historical world we live in According to Husserl the Western world is a world in crisis In this book Tanja Staehler explores how Husserl thus radicalises Hegel's philosophy by providing an account of historical movement as open Husserl's phenomenology allows thinking of historical worlds in the plural without hierarchy determined by ethics and aesthetics Staehler argues that through his radicalization of Hegel's philosophy Husserl provides us with a historical phenomenology and a coherent concept of a culture that points to the future for phenomenology as a philosophy that provides the methodological grounding for a variety of qualitative approaches in the humanities and social sciences
