Among the material to be discussed in this first section of the Enzymes and Food Processing Symposium is subject matter that can be viewed as a marriage between enzyme technology and sugar stereochemistry In order to bring the significance of the material to be presented into proper perspective I would like you to pretend for a moment that you are a researcher making a proposal on this subject to a Research Granting Agency in order to obtain financial support for your ideas However the year is 1880 Under the objectives section of your proposal you state that you intend to attach the intangible vital force or spirit that is the catalyst unique to the chemistry of living organisms to an inert substrate such as sand Thereafter you will pass a solution of right handed glucose also known as starch sugar past the vital force and in the process convert it to left handed glucose also known as fruit sugar The peer review committee would probably reject the proposal as sheer nonsense because the statements made were not only contrary to their experience but also contrary to what they had been taught Perhaps a few select people would have some feeling for what you were talking about but commiseration would be the only form of support that they could offer

Carbohydrate Chemistry John F Kennedy,N R Williams,2007-10-31 Carbohydrate Chemistry provides review coverage of all publications relevant to the chemistry of monosaccharides and oligosaccharides in a given year The amount of research in this field appearing in the organic chemical literature is increasing because of the enhanced importance of the subject especially in areas of medicinal chemistry and biology In no part of the field is this more apparent than in the synthesis of oligosaccharides required by scientists working in glycobiology Glycomedicinal chemistry and its reliance on carbohydrate synthesis is now very well established for example by the preparation of specific carbohydrate based antigens especially cancer specific oligosaccharides and glycoconjugates Coverage of topics such as nucleosides amino sugars alditols and cyclitols also covers much research of relevance to biological and medicinal chemistry Each volume of the series brings together references to all published work in given areas of the subject and serves as a comprehensive database for the active research chemist Specialist Periodical Reports provide systematic and detailed review coverage in major areas of chemical research Compiled by teams of leading authorities in the relevant subject areas the series creates a unique service for the active research chemist with regular in depth accounts of progress in particular fields of chemistry Subject coverage within different volumes of a given title is similar and publication is on an annual or biennial basis Topics in Hormone Chemistry Wilfrid R.
