Becoming a Better Value Creator Anjan V. Thakor,2000-08 Today's companies don't need better managers They need better value creators individuals who understand not only the organizational process but the organizational dynamics that ensure continuing profits for a company and its shareholders In this book respected business educator Anjan Thakor presents managers with a pragmatic guide to creating value and boosting the success of their companies while enhancing their own careers Creating value is about more than making money in the short term It's about incorporating the efforts of every employee into a business strategy that will support performance and profits over the long haul. It requires each member of a team to take ownership of the organizational assets he or she manages and translate organizational strategy into a personal plan of action. In separate chapters, Thakor gives individual managers of marketing, manufacturing, human resources, and finance specific guidelines for drafting that plan and overcoming the forces that can sabotage value. Using examples from all four of those business areas, as well as insights from leading value-creating companies, he presents five secrets that anyone can use to become a better value creator. The University of Michigan Business School Management Series is dedicated to providing managers with the practical tools they need to build their companies and their careers. Becoming a Better Value Creator tackles one of the biggest issues managers face today. By learning to recognize the factors critical to the ongoing success of their organizations, managers can go beyond maximizing short-term profits to serve the long-term interest of all the company's stakeholders while ensuring their own personal and professional fulfillment. Mad about Max Lisa Plumley, 2006. In this laugh-out-loud romantic adventure, a kooky vintage clothing store owner and a designer-clad businessman cross paths and discover that opposites really do attract. Original The Art of Medicine Kevin Soden, 2003. This one-of-a-kind resource thoroughly examines how to relate to patients and deal with difficult medical issues. Service Within Karl Albrecht, 1990. If you're not serving the customer, new management thinking for the service-age organization: the enemy of service. Middle management moving toward an internal service culture: special issues for internal service departments: understanding the internal customer: defining the internal service mission: orienting people for internal service: aligning systems for internal service: closing the loop with reinforcers. Dispatches from a Not-so-perfect Life Faulkner Fox, 2003. When Faulkner Fox's essay on motherhood, "What I Learned from Losing My Mind," appeared on Salon.com, her candid, irreverent wrangling with the perplexing issues facing modern moms struck such a chord with thousands of women around the nation that Salon reran the piece twice. In Dispatches from a Not So Perfect Life, Fox tackles head-on the dirty little secret that there's a whole universe of women out there who are quietly conflicted about the roles they are asked to play as spouses and mothers, even when they ostensibly have it all. In her wise, intimate, and poetic voice, Fox chronicles the barbed negotiations between women and their partners over housework and childcare, the corrosive sleep deprivation that can lead to depression, the internal conflicts over career ambition versus the desire to be super mom, and the oppressively unrealistic expectations with which even the most energetic moms have to deal. Part memoir, part parenting book, part cultural analysis, Fox's unforgettable narrative crackles with passion, humor, and truth. Swimming Naked Stacy Sims, 2005-02. In this novel about growth and transformation, Lucy, a hard-living droll and self-aware young woman, finds herself in strange new emotional territory and begins sizing up her life by setting the past against the present. Hostile Instinct Don Pendleton, 2000. The Stony Man team is called in to stop a disenchanting Congolese man from taking over a jungle region in central Africa. He is setting himself up as a dictator and wields a great deal of power, including several vials of Ebola virus that he stole from a lab The Tomoka Mystery Diane Sawyer, 2002 A Ruthless crew of men began stalking and threatening Zack Lilly Masters love however Zack is an undercover Detective also in Florida to patch up his relationship with his sister who is confined to a wheelchair after an accident and to investigate the whereabouts of Benjamin Voda a killer who is wanted in New York City
