ARMY OF ANGELS — BOOK 7 THE RATION DOCTRINE Sherridean Abddeen, 2025-12-28 When a powerful transnational network begins collapsing under investigation it loses its traditional tools of control money regulatory capture and weather manipulation In desperation its leaders chose the oldest weapon left hunger A coordinated series of food security incidents begins to ripple through supply chains not as open attacks but as legal and logistical manipulations designed to create confusion dependency and public fracture Inside the Covenant a command center receives a file that shouldn t exist a pattern map that predicts shortages before they happen tied to suspicious bank closures and asset flight in the North Two investigators are assigned one to trace financial withdrawal and institutional laundering routes another to track the food system disruptions and forecast upcoming incidents What begins as standard anomaly review turns into a race against a manufactured scarcity doctrine if people can t eat they can t think if they can t think they turn on each other and no one follows the money As pressure increases the antagonists realize their usual methods are failing Their operatives inside the Covenant are gone the network purged them The enemy has no face no leadership to buy and one feared motto echoed through rumor and surveillance Country and God Unable to infiltrate or negotiate the collapsing network escalates its plan not simply to raise food prices but to sabotage trust in food itself forcing ration dependence compliance markets and a new privatized ecosystem of stability The Covenant cannot save the world It slows the timeline forcing audits blocking key authorizations exposing falsified data and applying consequence where certainty becomes deadly The worst synchronized collapse is prevented but the system adapts new ration frameworks take hold private security distribution rises and the public mistakes quiet for safety The book ends not with victory but with fragile stability Balance holds and the Covenant returns to ordinary life watching new blind spots form Left Right Always Debate Handbook on Nuclear Weapons J.
