Students Right To Know:

Is Student-Right-to-Know All You Should Know? Thomas Bailey, Juan Carlos Calcagno, Davis Jenkins, Timothy Leinbach, Gregory Kienzl, 2005 Over the last decade policymakers educators and researchers have increasingly sought to understand community college policies and practices that promote students success This effort has been partly driven by an increased emphasis on outcome accountability but it has also promoted a productive discussion about improving institutional performance The research reported here has two related goals One goal is to work towards strengthening the ability to assess and compare institutional performance We thus have developed a model that can be used to adjust simple graduation rates for institutional characteristics such as student composition college resources size and location all of which might influence those rates Our long term goal is to understand how to improve student outcomes so the paper also uses the model to measure the effect of those institutional characteristics on graduation rates We use data from the Integrated Postsecondary Education Data System IPEDS surveys applying a weighted least squares procedure for grouped data to estimate an institutional completion rates model This analysis confirms several hypotheses about institutional determinants of graduation rates at community colleges Our results indicate a consistent negative relationship between enrollment size and completion Additionally colleges with high shares of minority students part time students and women have lower graduation rates A final significant finding among institutional characteristics is that greater instructional expenditures are related to a greater likelihood of graduation The method developed here can be used to better assess the performance of community colleges Contains 1 figure and 3 tables

Students' Right to Speak Erica R. Salkin, 2016-05-24 In 1969 Supreme Court Justice Abe Fortas called free speech in public schools a hazardous freedom but one well worth the risk A half century later with technology enabling students to communicate in ways only dreamed about in Fortas time that freedom seems more hazardous than ever Yet still worth the risk given equal respect for students First Amendment rights and for the requirements of an orderly educational institution This book provides educators administrators school board members and parents a starting point in creating student speech policies that encourage the responsible exercise of constitutional freedoms while respecting the learning environment The author discusses the history sociology law and philosophy surrounding student speech demonstrating that free speech and effective teaching and administration in public schools are not mutually exclusive

CCRC Brief Number 34 Thomas Bailey, Peter M. Crosta, Davis Jenkins, 2007 This Brief summarizes a study by the Community College Research Center CCRC that investigated the nature and validity of the SRK rates for community colleges by analyzing data on students attending Florida's 28 community colleges It sought to determine whether the rates provide useful information that can guide educators and policymakers working to improve the performance of community colleges or whether the rates contain biases serious enough to negate their usefulness This Brief also suggests how the process of determining the rates might be improved This brief is based on the CCRC full length paper What Can Student Right to Know Graduation Rates Tell Us about Community College Performance You Know the Fair Rule Bill Rogers, 2011 Classroom management and discipline can often be the most challenging part of an already demanding profession In this third edition of the best selling You Know the Fair Rule author Bill Rogers acknowledges and addresses the real challenges faced by teachers This major revision covers establishing classes effectively and positive discipline practice in the classroom working with children with behavioral disorders developing individual behavior plans managing anger and conflict working with the challenging and hard to manage class effective colleague support You Know the Fair Rule is a comprehensive practical and realistic guide to effective practice The skills and approaches outlined are derived from Roger's work in schools as a consultant and from his mentor teaching in challenging schools Federal Register, 1995 Beyond Student Right-to-Know Data Thomas Bailey, Juan Carlos Calcagno, Davis Jenkins, Timothy Leinbach, Gregory Kienzl, 2005 Policymakers educators and researchers recognize the importance of community colleges as open door institutions that provide a wide range of students with access to college At the same time competing demands for the state funds that would support community colleges have resulted in reduced public allocations and higher student tuition fees Understandably therefore both state policymakers and parents are increasingly focused on the returns to their public or private investments in education and the outcomes of community college attendance are now under greater scrutiny To facilitate the evaluation of the colleges there are now available data through the Student Right to Know and Campus Security Act 1990 which amended the Higher Education Act on every college's graduation rate for fall semester cohorts of first time fulltime FTFT students in degree programs This information is known as the Student Right to Know SRK data Given the importance of completions this Brief reports on research conducted by the Community College Research Center designed to strengthen the public's ability to assess and compare community college performance by measuring the effect of certain institutional characteristics on graduation rates The research consisted of the development of models based on SRK graduation rate data which can identify the institutional characteristics that might influence those rates and then measure the effect of those characteristics on the rates The ultimate goal of the research is to help community colleges improve the educational outcomes of their students The Right to Literacy in Secondary
