Marcellinus western or eastern affiliations using an often ignored Greek source Penny MacGeorge suggests a new interpretation The second part is concerned with the Gallic general Aegidius and his son Syagrius who ruled in northern Gaul probably from Soissons This extends to AD 486 well after the fall of the Western Empire The problem of the existence or non existence of a kingdom of Soissons is discussed introducing evidence from the Merovingian period and a solution put forward This section also looks at how the political situation in northern Gaul might throw light on contemporary post Roman Britain The third study is of the barbarian patrician Ricimer defender of Italy and his successors the Burgundian prince Gundobad and Orestes a former employee of Attila down to the coup of 476 by which Odovacer became the first barbarian king of Italy This includes discussion of the character and motivation of Ricimer particularly in relation to the emperors he promoted and destroyed and of how historians assessments of him have changed over time
