The Splendour of Doctrine Aidan Nichols, 2011-12-22 The new Catechism of the Catholic Church the first since the Council of Trent four centuries ago will play a major part in shaping the consciousness of Roman Catholic Christians of the foreseeable future Not only will it remain the foundational text for teaching Catholic doctrine for years to come but it successfully consolidates the achievements of the Second Vatican Council and presents the definitive modern synthesis of the Church's ever living Tradition Aidan Nichols's study introduces the reader to the doctrinal teaching of this massive text of almost three thousand clauses Commenting on the vital first part of the Catechism section by section he succeeds in highlighting its principal themes while drawing attention to the significance of the way they have been handled More sympathetic to the intentions of the Catechism's authors than some other recent commentators Nichols is sensitive to the nuances of this magisterial text and its immense theological import

The Catechism Explained Francis Spirago, 1899 This Catechism is divided into three parts The first part treats of faith the second of morals the third of the means of grace In the first part Our Lord appears in His character of Teacher in the second in His character of King and in the third in His character of High Priest And since this Catechism proposes as its primary object to answer the question for what purpose are we here upon earth thereby emphasizing and giving prominence to man's high calling and destiny it is especially suited to the present day when the pursuit of material interests self indulgence and pleasure engrosses the attention of so many This Catechism is in fact nothing more nor less than an abstract of Our Lord's teaching and may be called a guide book for the Christian on the road to heaven Preface
