Hardin Craig. London, Pub. for the Early English Text Society by K. Paul, Trench, Trübner & Co., Ltd., 1916 John Metham, Hardin Craig, 1974 Poems by Sir John Salusbury and Robert Chester Sir John Salusbury, 1914 Women's Power in Late Medieval Romance Amy Noelle Vines, 2011 A reading of how women's power is asserted and demonstrated in the popular medieval genre of romance The cultural and social power of women in the Middle Ages is perhaps hard to trace with evidence for it scarce This book argues that medieval romances provide a central but under explored source for and examples of such authority By reassessing the influence exerted by female characters in a spectrum that includes both intellectual and chivalric aid and in some cases patronage it considers how they functioned as models of cultural intellectual and social authority in medieval literary texts In addition to examples set by the family connections socio political networks and textual communities in which they lived this study argues that women also learned methods of influence from the books they read In texts like Troilus and Criseyde and Partonope of Blois the female reader encounters an explicit demonstration of how a woman's intellectual and financial resources can be used The literary representations of women's cultural power expose a continuum of influence from non material effects to material sway in the medieval patronage system an influence often unacknowledged in strictly historical and extra literary sources Amy N Vines is Assistant Professor in the Department of English University of North Carolina Greensboro
