International Risk Sharing and Gains from Financial Globalization Julian Fischer,2017-09-04 Seminar paper from the year 2017 in the subject Economics International Economic Relations grade 2 0 University of G ttingen Professur f r Empirische Au enwirtschaft course International Financial Markets language English abstract In this paper potential of international risk sharing for emerging markets will be investigated particularly in terms of financial integration and liberalization The incentives of financial integration will be surveyed in terms of international risk sharing indicate benefits for emerging market economies In addition it will be investigated if huge foreign capital inflows show positive effects of risk sharing for them Several government leaders all over the world recognize the potential of financial globalization for their country A strong incentive for deeper financial linking can be observed Three of the development countries in Africa already grew up to the so called emerging markets Egypt Morocco and South Africa To keep up with the fast growing population and facilitating the economic growth they want to stimulate employments for agriculture and infrastructure by investment partnerships with the G20 whereas Donald Trump the President of the USA would like to cut funding World Bank programs like credit guarantees or small business access to finance for these countries Indeed these development countries also including emerging markets need to implement more structural changes like liberalizing financial markets and financial transparency for these intentions Is international risk sharing able to smooth uncertainties in the emerging markets Will they catch up the distance to industrial countries In light of ongoing financial integration and economic development the influence of international risk sharing in terms of financial globalization for emerging markets will be investigated Just little evidence of risk sharing can be seen throughout the last decades but still some persuasive inquiries are to be considered Improvements in international risk sharing potentially lead to stabilizing effects scarcer sudden stops and smaller risk premiums Structural policy changes and better financial integration could surmount the threshold effect
