Studies Of War:

Handbook of War Studies Manus I. Midlarsky, 1989 Part III State Centered Theories of War Public Opinion and National Security Policy Relationships and Impacts Bruce Russett and Thomas W Graham The Diversionary Theory of War A Critique Jack S Levy Lateral Pressure in International Relations Concept and Theory Nazli Choucri and Robert C North Studies in War and Peace Michael Howard, 1970 Yearbook Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, 1925 Year Book Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, 1925 Officers' Manual James Alfred Moss, 1917 Studies in History, Economics, and Public Law, 1896 University of Illinois Studies in the Social Sciences, 1921 Contemporary Military Theory Jan Angstrom, J.J. Widen, 2014-07-17 The book aims to provide the reader with a state of the art introduction to classic and modern military theory The text accounts for the most important theories within the field by developing and analyzing these theories as well as problematizing both their normative and explanatory aims While focusing on military theory the book does not only reflect a single way of relating to knowledge of war and warfare but furthers learning by introducing contrasting perspectives as well as constantly criticizing the theories There is a clear need for an introductory text for the entire field of military theory that focuses whole heartedly on the theories not on their context or how they are expressed in practice during war This book covers such questions as how we should understand the changing character of war the utility of force and how the pursuit of political ends is achieved through military means It draws upon and illustrates military thought through a wide ranging number of examples from the Napoleonic Wars to the current war in Afghanistan This book will be of great interest for students of military theory strategic studies security studies and defence studies

Communication and Peace Cees J. Hamelink, 2020-05-29 This book provides a robust conceptualization of peace Hamelink defines peace as conceived of moments of celebrating human togetherness with deep fractures that polarize society standing in the way of collectively celebrating togetherness and posing a serious existential risk to humanity Deep dialogue is the form of human cooperative communication that is needed to build communities that can overcome polarization This is the most difficult form of human conversation as it is based upon trust mutuality patience and freedom and requires safe non threatening spaces but this book explains how to overcome the essential obstacles that prevent this dialogue To curate a deep dialogue we must turn to humanity s unique resource our ability to communicate pro socially and cooperatively

Reading Lists Carnegie Endowment for International Peace. Library, 1930 Index Medicus. Second Series, 1917 Framing War and Genocide Gregory Kent, 2006 Although just a decade ago the destruction of a European state and society through war and genocide remains one of the worst global crises of the post Cold War era with reverberations still felt today Bombardment and sieges of major towns and cities concentration and death camps and the mass slaughter and expulsion of civilians were all characteristics of a type of warfare that Europe had never dreamed might return. The war against Bosnia had a major impact on European and wider global consciousness being as it was then the most reported, debated and analyzed conflict to date. But despite the extensive coverage of Bosnia, the author contends the conflict and its origins were certainly misunderstood, there being a significant gulf between media perspectives and the thrust of academic discourse. This multidisciplinary book is based on extensive research into the TV and newspaper framing of the war during the critical early period of its development. Uniquely, the analysis of media is underpinned by an extensive and detailed historical argument about the nature of the wars and the politics of the Federation, including the use of media in war-making strategies in Yugoslavia itself. It will be of interest to scholars of IR and politics, media communication and journalism studies, and war and genocide studies. Journalists and the general reader will find the book accessible with valuable insights into reporting war and understanding media representation of conflict. Key issues and questions addressed include the critical use of official sources and propaganda in journalism; how media and policymakers interact to define and frame problems for policy action; what factors limit the accurate reporting of war; what is genocide and how is the Genocide Convention relevant in practice; and how to report genocide when such coverage conflicts with state interests.
