Suffering For Science Rebecca Herzig, 2005-10-17 From gruesome self experimentation to exhausting theoretical calculations stories abound of scientists willfully surrendering health well being and personal interests for the sake of their work What accounts for the prevalence of this coupling of knowledge and pain and for the peculiar assumption that science requires such suffering In this lucid and absorbing history Rebecca M Herzig explores the rise of an ethic of self sacrifice in American science Delving into some of the more bewildering practices of the Gilded Age and the Progressive Era she describes when and how science the supposed standard of all things judicious and disinterested came to rely on an enthralled investigator willing to embrace toil danger and even lethal dismemberment With attention to shifting racial sexual and transnational politics Herzig examines the suffering scientist as a way to understand the rapid transformation of American life between the Civil War and World War I 3 Suffering for Science reveals more than the passion evident in many scientific vocations it also illuminates a nation s changing understandings of the purposes of suffering the limits of reason and the nature of freedom in the aftermath of slavery

WHY DO HUMANS WORSHIP GODS? Wilberforce Reid, 2021 This book was written from a layman s point of view with no bias toward religion or academia The human instinct to worship a superior being and the consequence of this attribute are evaluated by the author Ever since humans have evolved to the level of consciousness where we started to ask ourselves the question Who am I we conceptualized a god who made it all happen These existential concepts that we have correctly or erroneously adopted come with confusion and contradictions Does an anthropomorphic god who is loving and caring allow or cause a tsunami or pandemic to kill millions of people Would the same loving and caring god allow one group of people to use his name to facilitate the dehumanization pillaging and mass killing of another group of people The answers to these questions are usually not objectively explored because of religious and cultural biases The Department of State Bulletin ,1948 The official monthly record of United States foreign policy Report Commonwealth Shipping Committee,1912 Annual Report Colorado Fuel and Iron Company,1916 The Colorado Fuel and Iron Company Industrial Bulletin ...
