Snapping Lines Stories:

Snapping Lines Jack López,2001-01-01 A construction worker takes up with the pregnant daughter of an acquaintance and finds he doesn't control the relationship as much as he thinks he does A couple searches for a lost dog along the beach because the dog is more important than their relationship A drunken man picks up a girl hitchhiker and remembers what it once felt like to have feelings for someone else What does it mean to be male in a world in which old borders no longer exist How can a man have a relationship if he doesn't even know who he is and what better way to find out than by committing to a woman Snapping Lines brings familiar and new stories together in a collection that explores the lives of loners searching for love Jack Lopez writes about people who have adopted a stoical indifference to a world in which they always seem to find themselves on the losing end These stories explore Latino male identity and the forces that shape it friends family and lovers culture place and relationships They focus on men often workingmen in the building trades who construct their lives through their work and live in perpetual limbo because they don't know who they are Men who stumble onto the relationships they need almost by accident Men who try to control their relationships but fail Written in spare electric language and energized by memorable scenes these stories enlighten as much as they entertain When you have read Snapping Lines you will come to see the faces of strangers in new and familiar ways
