

So you think you know golf

By HERBERT WARREN WIND

This, the 10th annual golf quiz, is very much like its predecessors. The bulk of the questions are of the multiple-choice type, and the remainder are varied. What do they test? Well, certainly a golfer's knowledge of recent events and personalities, but also his (or her) knowledge of golf history, the great courses, golf in foreign countries, famous occasions, plus a few abstract points of basic interest or of some importance—namely, being the complete golfer should know before going out to dinner with Sam Snead or Bob Beal or Dr. Ed Meyer or Joe Hay or Monte Stone or Jack Tuohy or Bob Pease. A reasonably well-informed golfer should be able to answer 14 of the 20 questions correctly.

1

Andrew Kirkaldy, the early Scottish professional, was a "rough golfer" who was hired for his native wit. For example, once when he was asked, "Andrew, how is the wind blowing just?" he made the following remarkable reply:

- "Just" is one drink and one game."
- "Well, then, I got the job."
- "None better."
- "Well and better, better and well."

2

In three of the following four groups, each of the names named has something in common with the others. However, in one of the groups one of the names has no affinity whatsoever with its neighbors. Which group is that?

- Cliff Swain, Jerry Travers, Bobby Jones, Francis Ouimet, Jack Nicklaus
- Milward, Milwaukee Country Club, National Golf Links, Pine Valley, Pine Plains
- Dick Sayers, Charlie Yates, Frank Stranahan, Bob Beal, Joe Torrey
- St. Andrews, Inverurie, Inverchaven, Winged Foot, Merion

3

Read the following paragraph closely. Then answer the test. It is a tale of golf, or "fals." It is just an exercise in simple logic.

"If a ball went against the flagstick when it is in the hole, the player shall be credited to have the flagstick removed, and if the ball falls into the hole the player shall be deemed to have holed out his last stroke otherwise, the ball shall be placed on the lip of the cup, without penalty."

4

All of these statements about Nancy Lopez are correct except one. Which one is that?

- She earned fitting golf fame when she was 4, using a broom for a club but later given her own.
- Like Jack Nicklaus, who later won the U.S. Junior Championship, Nancy never succeeded in winning the U.S. Girls' Junior championship.
- In 1977, before winning the LPGA qualifying event and qualifying with distinction, she finished second in the U.S. Women's Open.
- In 1979 she broke all LPGA records by winning five tournaments in five consecutive weeks.

5

There have been many exciting finishes in men's major golf in recent years but only one near the end was a major tournament by involving two of the best in the field. He is:

Jack Nicklaus	Tom Weir
Tony Jack	Lee Womack
Art Wall	Lee Trevi
Gary Player	Johnny Miller

6

Name the golfer from whose autobiography the following passage is taken, and also name the tournament (the year or end of the year) that he is describing.

"We were followed by a sparer gallery, for the bulk of the spectators were watching Jones or Wood and Phang, who were playing three holes ahead of us. It was about 5:30 in the afternoon when Walter and I came to the 100 hole."

7

This is a two-part question. You must answer both parts correctly.

- What many young professional has during the past few years won tournaments in England, France, Switzerland, Japan, United States, the Philippines, Korea, New Zealand and Germany?
- Which tournament on the American tour did he win?

8

The first golf club established outside of Scotland and England was:

- Most thing thing, which dates from 1862 when Queen Victoria's mistress, Lord Salisbury, drove off the first ball.
- Royal Colborne, its early members included a high proportion of blacks from the Southern area who were in the job trade in Bengal and were interested in their national game.
- Royal Montreal, which was carved out of the wilderness in 1875 by General Philippe Millson, the French-Canadian fur trader who turned golf courses entitled in middle age and built such famous courses as St. Hubert and Lacandon Springs.
- Van Cortlandt Park, constructed by the early Dutch settlers in the upper reaches of New York City, the course retained some of the characteristics of the Dutch game of balon, but otherwise believe that it was, and is, essentially a European golf link.

9

Harvey Penick, the well-known professional long associated with the North (Tex.) Country Club, has taught many fine players, both men and women, who have achieved considerable success on the pro tour. From the following list, name the two protégés of Penick's who, in recent years have done very well indeed on the PGA Tour.

Sam Snead	John Mahaffey
Jim Strick	Tom Weir
Charles Coody	Hubert Green
Jerry Pate	Mark Hayes

10

This June the United States Open will be contested at Inverurie for the fourth time. Ted Ray won there in 1926, Dick Mayer in 1957 and Billy Burke in 1961 after an intense playoff with George von Elm. Their playoff lasted:

- Just two holes, Burke winning the first sudden-death playoff over with a birdie on the second.
- 30 holes.
- 18 holes.
- 72 holes.

11

It is a par 3 only 100 yards or so in length. The ball flew to a small green from an elevated tee. The green is practically surrounded by hazards, and, for good reasons, the green from the preceding holes often provides a beautiful P showing backdrop. It is:

- The seventh at Pebble Beach
- The 17th at Pebble Beach
- The 10th at Cypress Point
- The 10th at Cypress Point

12

Exactly 20 years ago, in 1964, all of these things, except one, happened. Can you name it?

- An unknown young amateur, Billy Joe Patton, fought it out all the way in the Masters with Snead and Hogan, only to lose by a single stroke.
- The U.S. Open was hosted nationally for the first time.
- Arnold Palmer won his first major title, the U.S. Amateur, at the Country Club of Detroit.
- Sam Hogan won a striking British Open at Muirfield with a total of 271.
- Gene Sarafian, in a gallant performance, won her first and last U.S. Women's Open, edging out the runner-up by a mere 12 strokes.

13

Ray Pease, whose innovations and gift for hard work have no bounds, tested out a new gadget in 1978 that served him well.

- The game got off to such operations and their works to Goodell Industries and began working in clothes that ran the gamut of the colors of the rainbow.
- Deciding that accuracy is far more critical than distance of the tee, he perfected his drive and began using the 2-wood.
- The victory in the 1975 Masters inspired that golf legend on his brilliant performance of the tee box drive.
- After putting his thoughts with a short, jolting stroke, he successfully developed a smooth, through-the-ball stroke.
- Deciding that he needed to get into the better physical condition, he spent a full month at Jimmy Donahoe's Shape-Up School in Houston before playing a shot in the American tour.

14

Two bridges on the Old Course at St. Andrews span the Bannock Burn. Two bridges at Colchester span the Murgothale River. Several bridges at Cambridge span the cutting Barny Burn. Two bridges at Augusta National span Paul's Creek. One of these statements doesn't hold water. Which one is it?

15

Of the four statements that follow, how many are incorrect?

- Sammy Taylor, president of the USGA, was a star golfer at Stanford and also played at Oxford.
- The Americanized golf ball is now mandatory in practically all the important British professional tournaments.
- Ernest Thoson ran to Ochsana, who married Fred Loveless, was the first French golfer to win the British Ladies' Championship. Her daughter Catherine also won that title.
- The winner of the 1975 Masters was a Georgian.—Tommy Aaron.
