Sounds For Silents

Phillip Johnston

Sounds For Silents:

The Sounds of the Silents in Britain Julie Brown, Annette Davison, 2012-11-01 The Sounds of the Silents in Britain explores the sonic dimension of film exhibition in Britain from the emergence of cinema to the introduction of synchronized sound Written by experts on British silent film and film music the chapters provide an introduction to diverse aspects of early film sound vocal performance from lecturing and reciting to voicing the drama music from developments in accompanying techniques to the impact of legislation on musical practice overall and performance in cinemas more generally from dancing and singalong films to live stage prologues The book also debunks some of the myths about the sonic dimension of film exhibition it reveals that exhibition practices in London were arguably more sophisticated than those in New York before the onset of World War I for instance and that venue licensing decisions had a profound effect on whether music could even be performed with film in some theatres Based on extensive archival research and musicological analysis The Sounds of the Silents in Britain represents an important addition to early film and film music scholarship Silent Films/Loud Music

Phillip Johnston, 2021-08-12 Silent Films Loud Music discusses contemporary scores for silent film as a rich vehicle for experimentation in the relationship between music image and narrative Johnston offers an overview of the early history of music for silent film paired with his own first hand view of the craft of creating new original scores for historical silent films a unique form crossing musical boundaries of classical jazz rock electronic and folk As the first book completely devoted to the study of contemporary scores for silent film it tells the story of the historical and creative evolution of this art form and features an extended discussion and analysis of some of the most creative works of contemporary silent film scoring Johnston draws upon his own career in both contemporary film music working with directors Paul Mazursky Henry Bean Philip Haas and Doris D rrie among others and in creating new scores for silent films by Browning M li s Kinugasa Murnau Reiniger Through this book Johnston presents a discussion of music for silent films that contradicts long held assumptions about what silent film music is and must be with thought provoking implications for both historical and contemporary film music
