Sourcebook Of Adult Assessment Strategies:

Sourcebook of Adult Assessment Strategies Nicola S. Schutte, John M. Malouff, 2013-11-21 Assessment is a topic that is central to psychology. In the case of clinical psychology, assessment of individual functioning is of keen interest to individuals involved in clinical practice as well as research. Understanding the multiple domains of functioning, evaluating characteristics of individuals in relation to others, normative assessment as well as in relation to themselves, ipsative assessment and charting progress or change over time all require well-developed assessment tools and methods. In light of the importance of the topic, books, journals, and monographs continue to emerge in large numbers to present, address, and evaluate diverse measures. Keeping informed about measures, identifying the measures in use, and obtaining the necessary information for their interpretation make the task of Sisyphus look like a vacation. In this book, the editors provide information that eases the task remarkably. The overriding goal of this book is to provide concise, useful, and essential information about measures of adult functioning. To that end, this is a sourcebook, a format that is particularly noteworthy. The measures are presented and organized according to diagnostic categories as derived from the Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders (DSM-IV). The categories are broad: e.g., substance-related disorders, anxiety disorders, mood disorders, schizophrenia, and related disorders. In recognition that those who develop measures and those who use them in clinical research or practice usually do not have narrowly defined diagnostic entities in mind, Adults: A Sourcebook Joel Fischer, Kevin J. Corcoran, 1994. Now this updated and expanded two-volume edition of Fischer and Corcoran's standard reference enables professionals to gather this vital information easily and effectively. In Measures for Clinical Practice, Volume 1: Couples, Families, and Children, and Volume 2: Adults, Joel Fischer and Kevin Corcoran provide an extensive collection of over 320 rapid assessment instruments (RAIs) including questionnaires and scales which assess virtually any problem commonly encountered in clinical practice. All instruments are actually reprinted in the book and are critiqued by the authors to aid in their selection. The instruments included are brief and easy to administer and will be useful for all types of practice and all theoretical orientations.
