

~ Southern Life ~

If you want a glimpse of Southern life,
Come close and walk with me;
I'll tell you all the simple things,
That you are sure to see.
You'll see mockingbirds and bumblebees,
Magnolia blossoms and dogwood trees,
Caterpillars on the step,
Wooden porches cleanly swept;
Watermelons on the vine,
Strong majestic Georgia pines;
Rocking chairs and front yard swings,
June bugs flying on a string;
Turnip greens and hot cornbread,
Coleslaw and barbecue;
Fried okra, fried corn, fried green tomatoes,
Fried pies and pickles, too.
There's ice cold tea that's syrupy sweet,
And cool, green grass beneath your feet;
Catfish nipping in the lake,
And fresh young boys on the make.
You'll see all these things
And much, much more,
In a way of life, that I adore.

Excerpt All quiet along the Potomac to night Where the soldiers lie peacefully dreaming Their tents in the rays of the clear autumn moon Or the light of the watch fires are gleaming A tremulous sigh as the gentle night wind Through the forest leaves slowly is creeping While the stars up above with their glittering eyes Keep guard for the army is sleeping There is only the sound of the lone sentry s tread As he tramps from the rock to the fountain And thinks of the two on the low trundle bed Far away in the cot on the mountain His musket falls slack his face dark and grim Grows gentle with memories tender As he mutters a prayer for his children asleep For their mother may Heaven defend her The moon seems to shine as brightly as then That night when the love yet unspoken Leaped up to his lips and when low murmured vows Were pledged to be ever unbroken Then drawing his sleeve roughly over his eyes He dashes off tears that are welling And gathers his gun close up to its place As if to keep down the heart swelling He passes the fountain the blasted pine tree The footstep is lagging and weary Yet onward he goes through the broad belt of light Towards the shades of the forest so dreary Hark was it the night wind that rustled the leaves Was it moonlight so wondrously flashing It looked like a rifle ha Mary good bye And the life blood is ebbing and splashing All quiet along the Potomac to night No sound save the rush of the river While soft falls the dew on the face of the dead The picket s off duty forever 1861 all S well feoji toe land YJ love Post number one All s well Post number two All s well and so the assuring cry goes the circuit of the camp Officer s Notr book Southern Poets And Poems, 1606 -1860

Clyde N. Wilson,2024-09-19 THIS COLLECTION OF SOUTHERN POETS AND POEMS 1606 1860 is made not from the viewpoint of a literary critic but that of a student of history interested in how the experiences of the Southern people have been reflected in verse Poetry contains a kind of truth not found in other forms of expression We are guided by the advice of William Gilmore Simms the father of Southern literature The emotional literature of a people is as necessary to the philosophical historian as the mere details of events in the progress of a nation This is essential to the reputation of the Southern people as illustrating their feelings sentiments ideas and opinions the motives which influenced their actions and the objects which they had in contemplation and which seemed to them to justify the struggle in which they were engaged This is the first in a planned five volume series that will trace with verse the four hundred year history of the people of the South and The Land They Loved The Southern Poems of the War ,1867 War Songs and Poems of the Southern Confederacy, 1861-1865 Henry Marvin Wharton,1904 These songs and poems belong to the Nation Although our friends at the North will smile at some wince at others and even have their blood warmed by one here and there they must not forget that they were written by their brothers and sisters during a family quarrel when feeling was intense and the fight hot and fast It is all over now we are more united than ever and shall never fall out with each other again My object has been to rescue from oblivion these productions of a people as brave and true as ever lived and yet within half a century forgetting the past they have built up their shattered fortunes and side by side with the men they had once fought they stood in battle for the defense of our glorious flag No North no South no East no West but one and inseparable now and forever Fore word Songs from the Southern Seas John Boyle O'Reilly,1874 Fifty Famous Southern Poems L.
