Souvenir Guide To The Burrell Collection:

The Souvenir Guide to the Burrell Collection Richard Marks,1987 Burrell Collection Guidebook ,2022-03-29 The world famous Burrell Collection reopens to the world in the spring of 2021 after a multi million pound refurbishment This new guidebook functions as both a memento and a tool for visitors as they peruse the galleries which house tapestries stained glass Chinese art French paintings medieval sculpture and much more It contains key objects and gallery highlights offering visitors who require it more in depth information about the fantastic collection Sir William Burrell gave to his home city Glasgow in 1944 The opening essays illuminate the background story to this huge collection of over 9 000 objects and touch on the building s history and recent redevelopment The guidebook reflects the scope of the new galleries helping to orient visitors further William Burrell Martin Bellamy,Isobel MacDonald,2022-03-03 In 1944 Glasgow received one of the greatest gifts ever made to any city in the world a collection of over 6 000 artworks of many types spanning centuries and civilisations The benefactors were Glasgow born shipping magnate Sir William Burrell and Constance Lady Burrell Burrell s business success him to amass an extraordinary collection which he housed in the family home at Hutton Castle in the Scottish borders When he decided to leave the collection to the nation he considered donating it to London based galleries before deciding on Glasgow Corporation together with the residue of his estate to provide a suitable building It was many years before the right location was found and The Burrell Collection finally opened in 1983 This new biography is based on recent research full access to the Burrell archive and in depth knowledge of the collection Sir William was a complicated and private man who shunned publicity adored his wife but had a tumultuous relationship with his daughter In politics Conservative he campaigned for better housing conditions as long as this didn t cause further expense to the taxpayer The authors take a candid and considered view of who William Burrell the man was what sparked his passion for collecting and what his gift continues to mean to the city Domesday Souvenir Guide Elizabeth M. Hallam,2000 This pictorial guide tells the story of the Domesday survey and the making and keeping of the book itself It also gives a taste of what life was like in Norman England for nobles knights and villeins Each section is accompanied by contemporary illustrations and modern photographs and representations showing what has changed or remained the same Studies in the Art and Imagery of the Middle Ages Richard Marks,2013-12-31 Burrell Richard Marks,1992 Whitaker's Book List ,1991 British and Irish Paintings in Public Collections Christopher Wright,Catherine May Gordon,2006-01-01 This book sets a new standard as a work of reference It covers British and Irish art in public collections from the beginning of the sixteenth century to the end of the nineteenth and it encompasses nearly 9 000 painters and 90 000 paintings in more than 1 700 separate collections The book includes as well pictures that are now lost some as a consequence of the Second World War and others because of de accessioning mostly from 1950 to about 1975 when Victorian art was out of fashion By listing many tens of thousands of previously unpublished works including around 13 000 which do not yet have any form of attribution this book becomes a unique and indispensable work of reference one that will transform the study of British and Irish painting

The Representation of Islam in British Museums Ian Heath, 2007 The role of museums in creating and maintaining both cultural identities and their stereotypes is an area of debate and discourse in both archaeology and museology Despite the long history of the collection and public display of Islamic material there has been no systematic research into either its representation or into public perceptions of these representations This programme of research represents the first such study of the representation of Islamic material culture in British museums This commences with the discussion and evaluation of the history of contact between the Islamic world and Europe in general and Britain in particular Much of the history of this discourse is framed in terms of supra regional identity i e European and Islamic or Muslim These are constructed identities and the history of their construction is discussed before moving on to consider contemporary issues In addressing the subject of the representation of Islam in museums this work undertakes to examine both its production and consumption The production of representation and the creation of identity are achieved in museums through the medium of the display of material whilst consumption occurs through the medium of visiting and the meaning made by visitors In order to evaluate such production displays of Islamic material in museums are the subject of critical analysis This research has a qualitative element and seeks to tap into the perceptions of museum visitors of current museum displays Given the role played by museums in the construction of identity the questions underpinning this are firstly what are the messages they receive about the world of Islam and secondly what do these displays say about the Islamic world past and present
