Spectacular Realities:

Spectacular Realities Vanessa R. Schwartz, 1998-01-25 During the second half of the nineteenth century Paris emerged as the entertainment capital of the world The sparkling redesigned city fostered a culture of energetic crowd pleasing and multi sensory amusements that would apprehend and represent real life as spectacle Vanessa R Schwartz examines the explosive popularity of such phenomena as the boulevards the mass press public displays of corpses at the morgue wax museums panoramas and early film Drawing on a wide range of written and visual materials including private and business archives and working at the intersections of art history literature and cinema studies Schwartz argues that spectacular realities are part of the foundation of modern mass society She refutes the notion that modern life produced an unending parade of distractions leading to alienation and instead suggests that crowds gathered not as dislocated spectators but as members of a new kind of crowd one united in pleasure rather than protest

Cinematic Journeys Dimitris Eleftheriotis, 2010-04-30 Cinematic Journeys explores the interconnected histories theories and aesthetics of mobile vision and cinematic movement It traces the links between certain types of movement of in the frame and broader cultural trends that have historically informed Western sensibilities It contextualises that genealogy with detailed analysis of contemporary and recent travel films as well as older works The book investigates how movements of exploration discovery and revelation are activated in specific cinematic narratives of travelling and displacement Such narratives are analysed with attention to the mass population movements and displacements that form their referential background Cinematic Journeys also examines the ways in which travelling affects film itself Case studies focus on films as travelling commodities with the popularity of Indian films in Greece in the 1950s and 60s as case study and through a study of subtitles on the category of the foreign spectator who in the encounter with foreign films moves across cultural borders Films considered in the book include Sunrise Slow Motion Huckle Death in Venice Voyage to Italy The Motorcycle Diaries Koktebel Japon Blackboards Ulysses Gaze and the work of directors Tony Gatliff and Fatih Akin

Entertaining Lisbon João Silva, 2016 Entertaining Lisbon explores Portuguese entertainment as a form of negotiation between local national and transnational influences on identity Connecting gender class ethnicity and technology with theatrical repertoires street sounds and domestic music making author Jo o Silva investigates popular entertainment in Portugal and its connections with modern life and the rise of nationalism An essential contribution to the literature on Portuguese music written in the English language Entertaining Lisbon is a critical study for scholars and students of musicology interested in Portugal and popular and theatrical musics as well as historical ethnomusicologists cultural historians and urban planning researchers interested in the development of material culture

Jews in an Illusion of Paradise Norman Simms, 2018-01-23 These further six chapters of Jews in an Illusion of Paradise now focus on individual exemplary figures and clusters of poets dramatists critics journalists art historians Jews whose achievements were once celebrated but now are almost all but forgotten not because of changes in aesthetic taste or style but because of social political and other ideological issues The book continues to examine the clash between their conscious and unconscious self presentation as Jews in a culture that wilfully or inadvertently misunderstood or rejected this aspect of otherness the men and women represented from the mid nineteenth to the mid twentieth centuries Whereas the first volume concentrated on the themes images and rhetorical motifs of this awkward status of Jewish intellectuals and artists here the ambiguous personalities and repressed anxieties of the exemplary figures are stressed For millennia Jews were considered outside of normal history passive victims of persecution then suddenly with Emancipation they fell into history and out of their mythical place in the scheme of things Everything seemed to crumble into dust and ashes

The Science of Proof E. Claire Cage,2022-09-01 The Science of Proof traces the rise of forensic medicine in late eighteenth and nineteenth century France and examines its implications for our understanding of expert authority Tying real life cases to broader debates the book analyzes how new forms of medical and scientific knowledge many of which were pioneered in France were contested but ultimately accepted and applied to legal problems and the administration of justice The growing authority of medical experts in the French legal arena was nonetheless subject to sharp criticism and scepticism The professional development of medicolegal expertise and its influence in criminal courts sparked debates about the extent to which it could reveal truth furnish legal proof and serve justice Drawing on a wide base of archival and printed sources Claire Cage reveals tensions between uncertainty about the reliability of forensic evidence and a new confidence in the power of scientific inquiry to establish guilt innocence and legal responsibility

Nineteenth-Century Serial Narrative in Transnational Perspective, 1830s–1860s Daniel Stein,Lisanna Wiele,2019-05-24 This volume examines the emergence of modern popular culture between the 1830s and the 1860s when popular storytelling meant serial storytelling and when new printing techniques and an expanding infrastructure brought serial entertainment to the masses Analyzing fiction and non fiction narratives from the United States France Great Britain Germany Austria Turkey and Brazil Popular Culture Serial Culture offers a transnational perspective on border crossing serial genres from the roman feuilleton and the city mystery novel to abolitionist gift books and world s fairs

Theatrical Illusions Gina Marie Greene,2006 Murder in Parisian Streets Thomas Cragin,2006 In Murder in Parisian Streets Thomas Cragin provides an in depth study of the production sale and content of the canards He demonstrates their significance to nineteenth century culture even their role in determining the emerging tabloid s success Cragin explores the incremental creation of textual meaning in the canards authorship production distribution and consumption He exposes the power of oral traditions as well as modern marketing at work upon this popular news literature The canards challenge our assumptions about the nineteenth century s revolution in print and reorient our understanding of cultural creation through textual construction Jacket

2000+ Mark Wigley,James Graham,2015 Has architectural theory become a historical phenomenon to be anthologized and studied as another passing phase in the history of the discipline Do the current commonplace watchwords of practice and research mark the end of theory's place in architectural discourse This edited volume posits the contrary that theory remains urgent and even unavoidable so ingrained in architectural practice and pedagogy that it remains a vital if sometimes latent influence Architectural theory is not confined to its supposed heyday in the decades leading up to the year 2000 it has persisted and expanded as the stakes of theoretical discussions have transformed 2000 The Urgencies of Architectural Theory collects new essays from a range of the most compelling architectural historians and theorists of the moment including Lucia Allais Beatriz Colomina Mark Cousins Arindam Dutta John Harwood Catherine Ingraham Mark Jarzombek Mari Lending Spyros Papapetros Felicity Scott Pelin Tan Bernard Tschumi Eyal Weizman Mark Wigley and Mabel Wilson Brought together for a conference marking the end of Wigley's tenure as dean of Columbia University's Graduate School of Architecture Planning and Preservation these thinkers chart new directions and points of critical importance for theory in architecture
