Rogue Males: Richard Burton, Howard Marks and Sir Richard Burton Rob Walters, 2006-12-12 Sir Richard Burton is best known as an explorer and translator of Arabian and Indian books many of them sexually explicit He was known as Ruffian Dick and led a life well beyond the pale of the typical Victorian Richard Burton was a very famous actor with a brilliant voice and the looks to accompany it Sometimes known as Beer Burton he married Elizabeth Taylor twice and led a life which was often as dramatic as the characters that he played Howard Marks became famous as a cannabis smuggler He used the alias Mr Nice and adopted this as the title of a book that describes his exploits and ultimate incarceration in an American jail Each of these men has a roguish streak to their character but they also have a number of other things in common one of which is that they each began their adult life at Oxford University In fact they attended three colleges which stand cheek by jowl on Oxford s Broad Street Exeter Balliol and Trinity Each was a master of disguise though for rather different ends Each was a great traveller Howard for the drug trafficking Richard for the film sets and Sir Richard for exploration and consular duties They were all writers Two of them were Welsh two shared a name two are dead and all three are famous in their different ways Finally they were all iconoclasts mould breakers in different times and in different worlds This book illuminates the fascinating lives of each of these interesting men but also speculates on how they might react to each other It recreates the Oxford that bred them traces their subsequent lives and then leads them back to the city so that they can meet and discourse upon American hegemony the freedom to consume drugs the role of feminism and the value of education These topics are exposed to the soaring intellectuality and conservatism of the older Burton the articulation of the younger Burton and the liberality of Marks The results are sometimes shocking always interesting and often edifying

Viewing the Islamic Orient Pallavi Pandit Laisram,2014-07-11 The Islamic Orient studies the travel accounts of four British travelers during the nineteenth century Through a critical analysis of these works the author examines and questions Edward Said s concept of Orientalism and Orientalist discourse his argument that the orientalist view had such a strong influence on westerners that they invariably perceived the orient through the lens of orientalism On the contrary the author argues no single factor had an overwhelming influence on them She shows that westerners often struggled with their own conceptions of the orient and being away for long periods from their homelands were in fact able to stand between cultures and view them both as insiders and outsiders The literary devices used to examine these writings are structure characterization satire landscape description and word choice as also the social and political milieu of the writers The major influences in the author s analysis are Said Foucault Abdel Malek and Marie Louise Pratt
