store labels in a multi screen world where information explodes in every corner of the field of vision clarity comes from the presence of words among the feast of visuals helping contemporary audiences feel at home Research bears out the need for a range of learning tools and it s not just visitors who benefit from verbal cues donors educators community partners and volunteers will all engage more effectively with the museum that explains its brand mission with good writing Whether written by administrators staffers freelancers or interns words are delivered by people in your museums with the knowledge that they will be interpreted by strangers Your story is told everywhere and with each narration it reinforces your brand hopefully every single word reflects your brand Each chapter tells how to put into words the stories you need to tell including Blogs Brochures Exhibition videos Guided tour scripts Collateral programming talks Marketing plans Proposals to community partners Public Relations releases Social Media Solicitation letters Surveys Volunteer communications Website If you ever wished for a good writer right on staff ready to take on project major or routine here s the help you re looking for

Stampede Kimberly A. Williams, 2021-05-25T00:00:00Z Kimberly A Williams wants the annual Calgary Stampede to change its ways An intrepid feminist scholar with a wry sense of humour Williams deftly weaves theory history pop culture and politics to challenge readers to make sense of how gender and race matter at Canada s oldest and largest western heritage festival Stampede examines the settler colonial roots of the Calgary Stampede and uses its centennial celebration in 2012 to explore how the event continues to influence life on the streets and in the bars and boardrooms of Canada s fourth largest city Using a variety of cultural materials photography print advertisements news coverage poetry and social media Williams asks who gets to be part of the we in the Stampede s slogan We re Greatest Together and who doesn t The Resistance Dilemma George Hoberg, 2021-08-17 How organized resistance to new fossil fuel infrastructure became a political force and how this might affect the transition to renewable energy Organized resistance to new fossil fuel infrastructure particularly conflicts over pipelines has become a formidable political force in North America In this book George Hoberg examines whether such place based environmental movements are effective ways of promoting climate action if they might inadvertently feed resistance to the development of renewable energy infrastructure and what other more innovative processes of decision making would encourage the acceptance of clean energy systems Focusing on a series of conflicts over new oil sands pipelines Hoberg investigates activists strategy of blocking fossil fuel infrastructure often in alliance with Indigenous groups and examines the political and environmental outcomes of these actions After discussing the oil sands policy regime and the relevant political institutions in Canada and the United States Hoberg analyzes in detail four anti pipeline campaigns examining the controversies over the Keystone XL the most well known of these movements and the first one to use infrastructure resistance as a core strategy the Northern Gateway pipeline the Trans Mountain pipeline and the Energy East pipeline He then considers the resistance dilemma the potential of place based activism to threaten the much needed transition to renewable energy He examines several episodes of resistance to clean energy infrastructure in eastern

Canada and the United States Finally Hoberg describes some innovative processes of energy decision making including strategic environment assessment and cumulative impact assessment looking at cases in British Columbia and Lower Alberta
