The Abominable Man Maj Sjöwall, Per Wahlöö, 1972      The Abominable Man Maj Sjöwall, Per Wahloo, 2010-11-03

The striking seventh novel in the Martin Beck mystery series by Maj Sjöwall and Per Wahlöö finds Beck facing one of the greatest challenges in his professional career. The gruesome murder of a police captain in his hospital room reveals the unsavory history of a man who spent forty years practicing a horrible blend of strong arm police work and sheer brutality. Martin Beck and his colleagues feverishly comb Stockholm for the murderer, a demented and deadly rifleman who has plans for even more chaos. As the tension builds and a feeling of imminent danger grips Beck, his investigation unearths evidence of police corruption. That is when an even stronger sense of responsibility and something like shame urge him into taking a series of drastic steps which lead to a shocking disaster.

Swedish Marxist Noir Per Hellgren, 2018-12-28 Marxist theories have had a profound influence on crime fiction beginning with the works of the American writers of the 1930s. This study explores the development of a Swedish Marxist noir subgenre after the 1990s through a Marxist reading of central works from the Marlowe novels of Raymond Chandler to the 1960s social crime fiction of Sjöwall and Wahloo to modern bestselling authors such as Henning Mankell, Stieg Larsson, Roslund and Hellström, Jens Lapidus, Arne Dahl, and others. The works of these writers show a common thread of Marxist worldview in their portrayal of a modern world gone wrong.

The Preacher's Complete Homiletical Commentary on the Old Testament, 1892      An Old Man's Love Anthony Trollope, 1884      Noir in the North Stacy Gillis, Gunnthorunn Gudmundsdóttir, 2020-10-01

What is often termed Nordic Noir has dominated detective fiction film and television internationally for over two decades. But what are the parameters of this genre both historically and geographically? What is noirish and what is northern about Nordic noir? The foreword and coda in this volume by two internationally bestselling writers of crime fiction in the north, Yrsa Sigurðardóttir and Gunnar Staalesen, speak to the social contract undertaken by writers of noir, while the interview with the renowned crime writer Val McDermid adds nuance to our understanding of what it is to write noir in the North. Divided into four sections: Gender and Sexuality, Space and Place, Politics and Crime, and Genre and Genealogy, Noir in the North challenges the traditional critical histories of noir by investigating how it functions transnationally beyond the geographical borders of Scandinavia. The essays in this book deepen our critical understanding of noir more generally by demonstrating, for example, Nordic noir's connection to fin de siècle literatures and to mid-century interior design, and by investigating the function of the state in crime fiction.

Rumer Godden Lucy Le-Guilcher, 2016-04-08 From 1929 to 1997 Rumer Godden published more than 60 books including novels, biographies, children's books, and poetry. This is the first collection devoted to this important transnational writer. Focusing on Godden's writing from the 1930s onward, the contributors uncover the breadth and variety of the literary landscape on display in works such as Black Narcissus, The Lady and the Unicorn, A Fugue in Time, and The River. Often drawing on her own experiences living in India and Britain, Godden establishes a diverse narrative topography that allows her to engage with issues related to her own uncertain position as an author representing such nomadic Others as gypsies or taking up the displacements brought about by international conflict Recognizing that studies of the transnational must consider the condition of enforced and elected exile within the changing political and cultural borders of postcolonial nations the contributors position Godden with respect to different and overlapping fields of inquiry modern literary history colonial postcolonial and transnational studies inter media studies and children s literature Taken together the essays in this volume demonstrate the richness and variety of Godden s writing and render the myriad ways in which Godden is an important critical presence in mid twentieth century fiction The Works of Victor Hugo: The man who laughs Victor Hugo,1894
