through the first decade of the new millennium with the same thorough intense and lively scholarship that characterized Partridge's own work. Unique, exciting, and at times hilariously shocking, key features include unprecedented coverage of World English with equal prominence given to American and British English slang and entries included from Australia, New Zealand, Canada, India, South Africa, Ireland, and the Caribbean, emphasis on post-World War II slang and unconventional English, published sources given for each entry often including an early or significant example of the term's use in print, hundreds of thousands of citations from popular literature, newspapers, magazines, movies, and songs illustrating usage of the headwords, dating information for each headword in the tradition of Partridge commentary on the term's origins and meaning. New to this edition: A new preface noting slang trends of the last five years; Over 1,000 new entries from the US, UK, and Australia; New terms from the language of social networking; Many entries now revised to include new dating, new citations from written sources, and new glosses. The New Partridge Dictionary of Slang and Unconventional English is a spectacular resource infused with humour and learning; it's rude, it's delightful, and it's a prize for anyone with a love of language.

Read the stories of the innovations and surprising elements of the city's past. In the shadow of Flint's success as an industrial hub and the tragedy that is the water crisis that came to a head in 2014, the fascinating past of Flint has been largely forgotten. Local author Gary Flinn showcases the obscure and surprising elements of the Vehicle City's past such as local Civil War hero Franklin Thompson who was actually Sarah Edmonds in disguise, the city's most prolific inventor Lloyd Copeman created the electric stove, flexible ice cube tray, and automatic toaster, and even Thread Lake's Lakeside Amusement Park that offered seaplane rides and a giant roller coaster partly built over the water before closing in 1931.
