Small Island A Novel:

Small Island Andrea Levy, 2005-04 Told in four distinct voices the winner of the Orange Prize for Fiction 2004 is a courageous novel of tender emotion and sparkling wit encapsulating the most American of experiences the immigrant's life

Small Island Andrea Levy, 2010-03-30 An international bestseller Andrea Levy's Small Island won the Orange Prize for Fiction The Orange Prize for Fiction Best of the Best The Whitbread Novel Award The Whitbread Book of the Year Award and the Commonwealth Writers Prize Hortense Joseph arrives in London from Jamaica in 1948 with her life in her suitcase her heart broken her resolve intact Her husband Gilbert Joseph returns from the war expecting to be received as a hero but finds his status as a black man in Britain to be second class His white landlady Queenie raised as a farmer's daughter befriends Gilbert and later Hortense with innocence and courage until the unexpected arrival of her husband Bernard who returns from combat with issues of his own to resolve Told in these four voices Small Island is a courageous novel of tender emotion and sparkling wit of crossings taken and passages lost of shattering compassion and of reckless optimism in the face of insurmountable barriers in short an encapsulation of that most American of experiences the immigrant's life Small

Island Andrea Levy, 2008-01-01 Small Island Andrea Levy, 2009 In 1948 four very different Britons are thrown together in a central London terrace Queenie Bligh an unremarkable working class woman is awaiting the return from war service of her husband Bernard In the meantime she takes as a boarder a black Jamaican man who was briefly billeted to her house during the war Then Gilbert's new bride the prim and proud Hortense turns up from Jamaica bearing misapprehension about English life and the place of a black woman in it Then there's the long awaited return of Queenie's husband Bernard who is racist and somewhat war damaged Hortense discovers that her status is the same as that of any other black migrant The revelation almost destroys her self esteem but it also sets her on a path to self discovery She ends by beginning to understand Gilbert's strength Queenie's kindness and the sympathies she shares with them Andrea Levy Jeannette

Baxter, David James, 2014-03-13 Andrea Levy has emerged as one of the most significant and popular voices in contemporary black British writing both in the UK and abroad Drawing on a familial history of emigration her critically acclaimed novels including the multiple award winning Small Island attempt to bring a variety of voices to the representation of black experience in post war Britain This book is the first of its kind to be devoted to Levy's work Combining historical theoretical and textual perspectives the volume hosts a wide range of current critical approaches to Levy's fiction With chapters written by leading established and emerging scholars the book explores issues of literary form diasporic literature and cultural value the BBC TV adaptation of Small Island while also shedding fresh light on Levy's critically neglected early works The book also includes a new interview with Levy herself a timeline of her life chapter summaries as well as guides to further reading and online resources making this an essential companion to the writings of one of the most exciting voices in contemporary fiction The Transnational in Literary Studies Kai Wiegandt, 2020-07-06 This volume clarifies the meanings and applications of the concept of the transnational and identifies areas in which the concept can be particularly useful The division of the volume into three parts reflects areas which seem particularly amenable to analysis through a transnational lens The chapters in Part 1 present case studies in which the concept replaces or complements traditionally dominant concepts in literary studies These chapters demonstrate for example why some dramatic texts and performances can better be described as transnational than as postcolonial and how the transnational underlies and complements concepts such as world literature Part 2 assesses the advantages and limitations of writing literary history with a transnational focus These chapters illustrate how such a perspective loosens the epistemic stranglehold of national historiographies but they also argue that the transnational and national agendas of literary historiography are frequently entangled The chapters in Part 3 identify transnational genres such as the transnational historical novel transnational migrant fiction and translinguistic theatre and analyse the specific poetics and politics of these genres

Narrative Projections of a Black British History Eva Ulrike Pirker, 2012-03-29 This book analyses narratives that center on construct or comment on black British history Outlining the emergence of black history in Britain and shifts in the politics of history it principally focuses on recent narratives that engage critically with the historical culture surrounding black Britain

Mother Imagery in the Novels of Afro-Caribbean Women Simone A. James Alexander, 2001 Focusing on specific texts by Jamaica Kincaid Maryse Conde and Paule Marshall this study explores the intricate trichotomous relationship between the mother biological or surrogate the motherlands Africa and the Caribbean and the mothercountry represented by England France and or North America The mother daughter relationships in the works discussed address the complex conflicting notions of motherhood that exist within this trichotomy Although mothering is usually socialized as a welcoming nurturing notion Alexander argues that alongside this nurturing notion there exists much conflict Specifically she argues that the mother daughter relationship plagued with ambivalence is often further conflicted by colonialism or colonial intervention from the other the colonial mothercountry

Mother Imagery in the Novels of Afro Caribbean Women offers an overview of Caribbean women s writings from the 1990s focusing on the personal relationships these three authors have had with their mothers and or motherlands to highlight links despite social cultural geographical and political differences among Afro Caribbean women and their writings Alexander traces acts of resistance which facilitate the re writing righting of the literary canon and the conception of a newly created genre and a womanist tradition through fictional narratives with autobiographical components
