Song of the North Wind Paul A. Johnsgard,1979-01-01 For centuries the snow goose has signified the passing seasons to the Indians its white feathers a symbol of the breadth of life and a reminder of the roles the birds played as messengers between heaven and earth The importance of the geese in these roles is attested by their prominence in Indian lore and myth As a boy growing up in North Dakota Paul A Johnsgard measured his winters not by conventional time units but in the days it took for the snow geese to return from their wintering grounds to Lake Traverse In this book he recounts the story of one year in the life of a pair of snow geese the incubation and breeding of the young in the Arctic their hazardous migration to winter quarters near the Gulf of Mexico and the spring migration back to the Arctic

Waterfowl in Winter Milton Webster Weller,1988 Waterfowl in Winter was first published in 1988 Minnesota Archive Editions uses digital technology to make long unavailable books once again accessible and are published unaltered from the original University of Minnesota Press editions The emphasis in research on waterfowl has traditionally focused on breeding as opposed to migrant or wintering birds Scientists have long been interested in courtship nest sites laying and brood rearing and they have also been concerned about losses of eggs young nesting hens and breeding habitats especially as they have affected the goal of increasing populations But lately there has been an upsurge of interest and research on the migratory and wintering phases and this volume offers ample evidence of the knowledge gained The authors 105 waterfowl biologists have contributed 47 chapters that range geographically from

Alaska to northern South America and from the Pacific Northwest to Nova Scotia and Florida Their subjects include distributional changes due to human influence population trends and concerns over less common species pairing and other behavior that occurs in the wintering areas and is vital to the success of the species feeding ecology and body condition during winter new habitats created by such activities as aquaculture and park development losses of habitat due to development and drainage for alternate uses lead poisoning and pollutants that are detrimental to waterfowl habitat management for maintenance of successful populations now and in the future Also presented are reports of workshop discussions outlining current issues and future research needs Preparation of this volume was assisted by an editorial board comprising Bruce J J Batt Robert H Chabreck Leigh H Fredrickson and Dennis G Raveling
