Soccer Fever:

Soccer in Brazil Martin Curi,2016-04-14 No other national stereotype in the world is so closely tied with a sport as Brazil is with football The five time world champions have constructed their national identity around this sport Perhaps for this reason it s no wonder that there are many Brazilian social scientists doing research on this theme The first part of this volume is dedicated to the history of Brazilian football The main question is how did football become so popular in the country It also looks at other interesting historical developments in Brazilian football history up to this day The second part considers current phenomena especially the place of Brazilian football in a globalized world What are the consequences of an extremely commercialized and mediatized sport on a developing country How does Brazil figure as the main supplying country of football talents How does the population feel about seeing their players in Europe instead of their own country Finally the book will conclude with a critique of a documentary film about a Brazilian national team game in Haiti which was part of the Brazilian army s blue helmet mission The game was used as a political instrument revealing the importance of this sport in attaining a political position for Brazil in the world This book was previously published as a special issue of Soccer and Society

Portugal Fodor's,Tim Jepson,2005 Grayson tells the story of a miraculous ocean encounter that happened to her when she was seventeen and in training for a big swim she had already swum the English Channel twice and the Catalina Channel It was in the dark of early morning Lynne was in 55 degree water as smooth as black ice two hundred yards off shore outside the wave break She was swimming her last half mile back to the pier before heading home for breakfast when she became aware that something was swimming with her The ocean was charged with energy as if a squall was moving in thousands of baby anchovy darted through the water like lit sparklers trying to evade something larger Whatever it was it felt large enough to be a white shark coursing beneath her body It wasn't a shark It became clear that it was a baby gray whale following alongside Lynne for a mile or so Lynne had been swimming for more than an hour she needed to get out of the water to rest but she realized that if she did the young calf would follow her onto shore and die from collapsed lungs The baby whale eighteen feet long was migrating on a three month trek to its feeding grounds in the Bering Sea an eight thousand mile journey It would have to be carried on its mother's back for much of that distance and was dependent on its mother's milk for food baby whales drink up to fifty gallons of milk a day If Lynne didn't find the mother whale the baby would suffer from dehydration and starve to death Something so enormous the mother whale was fifty feet long suddenly seemed very small in the vast Pacific Ocean How could Lynne possibly find her This is the story part mystery part magical tale of what happened BOOK JACKET
