Texts In Elementary Classrooms:

Inclusive Texts in Elementary Classrooms Amy J. Heineke, Aimee Papola-Ellis, 2022 Put children's diverse experiences at the center of the curriculum with texts that promote their identity development, literacy engagement, and comprehension and learning across the content areas. This practical text includes guidance for setting learning goals that align with relevant standards and curricular directives, as well as classroom examples, teaching strategies, and reflective questions. The Texts in Elementary Classrooms James V. Hoffman, Diane L. Schallert, 2004 The book is based on research related to texts, tasks, and effective teaching in primary classrooms, as compared to an ideal primary classroom. Audience: curriculum directors and supervisors. Also useful for specialized institutes and graduate courses. Close Reading in Elementary School Diana Sisson, Betsy Sisson, 2014-04-16 The Common Core State Standards encourage teachers to use close reading as a means to help students access complex text. Many literacy experts believe close reading has the power to create strong independent readers. But what does that really mean, and how does it work in the classroom? This book is your must-have guide to getting started. It provides step-by-step strategies and scaffolds for teaching close reading and improving students' comprehension of complex texts. You will learn how to teach close reading based on text type, how to transition students through increasingly challenging texts, and how to use close reading as a springboard for close writes and close talks. Special Features: An easy-to-use framework for creating a close reading lesson; Close reading strategies for a variety of literary and informational subgenres; Ideas for teaching close reading to meet specific comprehension objectives based on the Common Core, including analyzing text structure and evaluating argument; Suggestions for helping students read with increased levels of rigor; A clear explanation of what text complexity really means and how it varies by student; Scaffolds to help students at all ability levels do a close reading; Guidelines and procedures for close talks, purposeful, focused discussions about text; Procedures for close writes that vary based on genre and student ability level. In addition, each chapter includes study guide questions to help you apply the ideas in the book to your own classroom. With this practical book, you will have all the tools you need to make close reading a reality. A Closer Look at One Elementary School's Use of Informational Text in Classroom Instruction Marjean Sorensen, 2009 The purpose of this action research study was to explore the use of informational text in kindergarten through sixth grade classrooms in one elementary school. The research was based on analyzing responses given by teachers on a self-report survey which addressed various aspects of their use of informational texts. The survey included questions about the sources teachers used to find informational texts, the criteria used in selection of such texts, and the frequency and purposes for informational text use. These data were then compared according to teachers' years of teaching experience and grade level taught to see the influence of such groupings. Findings indicated that teachers tend to use the sources for informational texts that are most readily available within a school. Further findings indicated that not all teachers use the same selection criteria for picking informational texts to use in their classrooms, and teachers value different criteria for selection of such texts Next frequency of use of informational texts varied from teacher to teacher with some teachers using informational texts often and some using informational texts very little The use of such texts was almost always tied to specific content but the purposes for use of informational texts varied from teacher to teacher with some teachers being very specific in their purpose to others being very vague about their purpose for the use of such texts Finally findings show that there were differences in the ways teachers in two grade level groups selected and used informational texts
