nobody in our village had ever taken boarders There had been no real necessity for it and we had always been rather proud of the fact While we were certainly not rich there was not one positively rich family among us we were comfortably provided with all the necessities of life We did not need to open our houses and our closets and our bureau drawers and give the freedom of our domestic hearths and as it were our household gods for playthings to strangers and their children Many of us had to work for our daily bread but we were thankful to say not in that way We prided ourselves because there was no summer hotel with a demoralizing bowling alley and one of those dangerous chutes in our village We felt forbiddingly calm and superior when now and then some strange city people from Grover the large summer resort six miles from us travelled up and down our main street seeking board in vain We plumed ourselves upon our reputation of not taking boarders for love or money Brian Pendleton and His Descendants, 1599-1910, 1911 Brian Pendleton was born in 1599 in England and immigrated during or before 1634 to Watertown Massachusetts He moved to York Maine and died about 1680 The People of Our Neighborhood Mary Eleanor Wilkins Freeman, 1895 Midland; a Magazine of the Middle West, 1925
