Visible Identities:

Visible Identities Linda Martín Alcoff, 2005-12-22 In the heated debates over identity politics few theorists have looked carefully at the conceptualizations of identity assumed by all sides Visible Identities fills this gap Drawing on both philosophical sources as well as theories and empirical studies in the social sciences Martín Alcoff makes a strong case that identities are not like special interests nor are they doomed to oppositional politics nor do they inevitably lead to conformism essentialism or reductive approaches to judging others Identities are historical formations and their political implications are open to interpretation But identities such as race and gender also have a powerful visual and material aspect that eliminativists and social constructionists often underestimate Visible Identities offers a careful analysis of the political and philosophical worries about identity and argues that these worries are neither supported by the empirical data nor grounded in realistic understandings of what identities are Martín Alcoff develops a more realistic characterization of identity in general through combining phenomenological approaches to embodiment with hermeneutic concepts of the interpretive horizon Besides addressing the general contours of social identity Martín Alcoff develops an account of the material infrastructure of gendered identity compares and contrasts gender identities with racialized ones and explores the experiential aspects of racial subjectivity for both whites and non whites In several chapters she looks specifically at Latino identity as well including its relationship to concepts of race the specific forms of anti Latino racism and the politics of mestizo or hybrid identity

Visible Identities Linda Alcoff, 2006 The Gender Vendors A. L. Jones, 2014-08-26 Among numerous ancient Western tropes about gender and procreation the seed and the soil is arguably the oldest most potent and most invisible in its apparent naturalness The Gender Vendors denaturalizes this proto theory of procreation and deconstructs its contemporary legacy As metaphor for gender and procreation seed and soil constructs the father as the sole generating parent and the mother as nurturing medium like soil for the man's seed child In other words men give life women merely give birth The Gender Vendors examines seed and soil in the context of the psychology of gender honor and chastity codes female genital mutilation the taboo on male femininity femiphobia the fear of being feminine or feminized sexual violence institutionalized abuse the early modern witch hunts the medicalization and criminalization of gender nonconformity and campaigns against women's rights The examination is structured around particular watersheds in the history of seed and soil for example Genesis ancient Greece early Christianity the medieval Church the early modern European witch hunts and the campaigns of the nineteenth and twentieth centuries against women's suffrage and education The neglected story of seed and soil matters to everyone who cares about gender equality and why it is taking so long to achieve

Poetics of the Flesh Mayra Rivera, 2015-10-15 In Poetics of the Flesh Mayra Rivera offers poetic reflections on how we understand our carnal relationship to the world at once spiritual organic and social She connects conversations about corporeality in theology political theory and continental philosophy to show the relationship between the ways ancient Christian thinkers and modern Western philosophers conceive of the body and flesh Her readings of the biblical writings of John and Paul as well as the work of Tertullian illustrate how Christian ideas of flesh influenced the works of Maurice Merleau Ponty and Michel Foucault and inform her readings of Judith Butler Frantz Fanon and others Rivera also furthers developments in new materialism by exploring the intersections among bodies material elements social arrangements and discourses through body and flesh By painting a complex picture of bodies and by developing an account of how the social materializes in flesh Rivera provides a new way to understand gender and race

Socially Undocumented Amy Reed-Sandoval,2020 What does it really mean to be undocumented particularly in the contemporary United States Political philosophers immigration policy makers and others have tended to define the term undocumented migrant legalistically that is in terms of lacking legal authorization to live and work in one s current country of residence In Socially Undocumented Reed Sandoval challenges this legalistic understanding by arguing that being socially undocumented is to possess a real visible and embodied social identity that does not always track one s legal status She further argues that achieving immigration justice in the U S and elsewhere requires a philosophical understanding of the racialized class based and gendered components of socially undocumented identity and oppression Socially Undocumented offers a new vision of immigration justice by integrating a descriptive and phenomenological account of socially undocumented identity with a normative and political account of how the oppression with which it is associated ought to be dealt with as a matter of social justice It also addresses concrete ethical challenges such as the question of whether open borders are morally required the militarization of the Mexico U S border the perilous journey that many migrants undertake to get to the United States the difficult experiences of the women who cross U S borders seeking prenatal care while pregnant and more

Proceedings of the Royal Society of London Royal Society (Great Britain),1920

The Other Helen Fielding,2007-04-25 The western philosophical tradition with its focus on universal concepts and a presumed neuter but ultimately male subject has only relatively recently become open to the question of alterity in particular the alterity of woman as the other of man The essays of this volume reflect in particular on the ethical implications of taking the feminine other into account This necessitates a rethinking of the implicit structures of Western philosophy which continue to exclude women as subjects who contribute to the conceptualization of world and society This volume which gives voice to women philosophers is a contribution to that task

Latinos in America Jorge J. E. Gracia,2008-05-19 This book seriously and profoundly examines what it means philosophically to be Latino and where Latinos fit in American society

The Material of Knowledge Susan Hekman,2010-04-19 Susan Hekman believes we are witnessing an intellectual sea change The main features of this change are found in dichotomies between language and reality discourse and materiality Hekman proposes that it is possible to find a more intimate connection between these pairs one that does not privilege one over the other By grounding her work in feminist thought and employing analytic philosophy scientific theory and linguistic theory

Hekman shows how language and reality can be understood as an indissoluble unit In this broadly synthetic work she offers a new interpretation of questions of science modernism postmodernism and feminism so as to build knowledge of reality and extend how we deal with nature and our increasingly diverse experiences of it

Introducing Cultural Studies Elaine Baldwin, 1999 Cultural studies is a new way of engaging in the study of culture which has emerged from the overlapping interests of other disciplines most notably anthropology history literary studies and sociology This introductory text focuses on the core issues and problems in the study of culture

Mixing It Up SanSan Kwan, Kenneth Speirs, 2004-10 The United States Census 2000 presents a twenty first century America in which mixed race marriages cross race adoption and multiracial families in general are challenging the ethnic definitions by which the nation has historically categorized its population Addressing a wide spectrum of questions raised by this rich new cultural landscape Mixing It Up brings together the observations of ten noted voices who have experienced multiracialism first hand From Naomi Zack's American Mixed Race The United States 2000 Census and Related Issues to Cathy Irwin and Sean Metzger's Keeping Up Appearances Ethnic Alien Nation in Female Solo Performance this diverse collection spans the realities of multiculturalism in compelling new analysis Arguing that society's discomfort with multiracialism has been institutionalized throughout history whether through the one drop rule or media depictions SanSan Kwan and Kenneth Speirs reflect on the means by which the monoracial lens is slowly being replaced Itself a hybrid of memoir history and sociological theory Mixing It Up makes it clear why the identity politics of previous decades have little relevance to the fluid new face of contemporary humanity
