Political and Civic Leadership Richard A. Couto, 2010-09-14 This work within The SAGE Reference Series on Leadership provides undergraduate students with an authoritative reference resource on political and civic leadership This 2 volume set focuses on the 100 most important topics issues question and debates specific to politics and civic society Entries provide students with more detailed information and depth of discussion than typically found in an encyclopedia entry while avoiding much of the jargon detail and density one might find in a journal article or a research handbook chapter Key Features Includes entries written by a global panel of renowned experts Offers broad coverage of important of the moment topics related to political and civic leadership including explorations of the personalities and environments of political leaders leadership roles in governance and allegiance citizen activists and civic engagement political campaigning urban politics and leadership public management ethics in politics policy development and implementation executive management of public opinion political speechmaking and the bully pulpit congressional leadership crisis management and more Considers the history of political and civic leadership with examples from the lives of pivotal figures as well as the institutional settings and processes that lead to both opportunities and constraints unique to the political realm Provides students with more depth than usual encyclopedic entries while avoiding the jargon detail and density of more advanced works Features an approachable and clear writing style with appeal to undergraduate researchers and offers a list of further readings after each entry as well as a detailed index and an online version of the work to maximize accessibility for today's students Building Organizational Capacity J. Douglas Toma, 2010-11-15 Every university or college president envisions bold initiatives big projects intended to change the nature of an institution with significant implications across all sectors How can leaders and senior managers charged with implementing reforms effectively frame their work and anticipate potential pitfalls No organization can maximize its capacity defined as the administrative foundation essential for establishing and sustaining initiatives without considering its core elements individually and in concert according to J Douglas Toma This book examines eight essential organizational elements purposes structure governance policies processes information infrastructure and culture and illuminates their influence in strategic management through case studies at eight institutions Building Organizational Capacity situates strategic management within the context of higher education providing practitioners with the tools to better understand institutional challenges in accomplishing its missions and realizing its aspirations Toma's clear and well integrated review of the latest research as well as his advice for decision makers applying the book's lessons in practice ensures this volume's place in the growing literature on strategy and management in higher education Value Management Roger H. Davies, 2016-02-17 Change programmes in both private and public sectors have a poor record of delivering their intended value The reasons given most often for their failure include lack of executive support or buy in from key users loose requirements definition weak programme management and plain wishful thinking They rarely include technical limitations Value Management puts forward the view that the true problem lies in failing to understand the causal links between the intended stakeholder outcomes and the actual programme outputs Repeating the pattern of failure can be avoided by asking two questions Before implementation what capabilities must a change programme deliver when and in what order so as to cause intended value against a defined purpose with speed and certainty During and after implementation what minor adjustments and or major shifts are needed to be certain that the programme remains on purpose and on value and two answers to be given Target time and align change programmes to deliver maximum intended value to stakeholders the baseline business case track and respond to changes during and beyond implementation to ensure that the programme actually delivers or exceeds intended value value realisation The authors show how by asking and answering these questions direction and delivery of any programme can be clarified and greater economic value achieved The 2007 Pfeiffer Annual Elaine Biech, 2007 The 2007 Pfeiffer Annual Consulting is a ready made toolkit of ideas methods techniques and models that assist and support your work as an organizational consultant The materials provide highly accessible means of interacting with a diverse variety of systems and processes from collaborative work systems and executive coaching to strategic planning and organization development

Next Generation Management Development Robert D. Cecil, William J. Rothwell, 2007 This innovative comprehensive and fully integrated management development program provides a vehicle for enabling managers and leaders to participate more effectively in their organization's OD processes. The concepts, models, tools, and other materials have been used successfully to train managers, leaders, and MD/OD personnel in organizations such as IBM, AT&T, Kraft, Baxter Labs, Sears, Caterpillar, and the U.S. Navy, Army, and Air Force. The accompanying CD-ROM contains customizable tools for OD consultants and facilitators, as well as additional chapter material.

NL ARMS Netherlands Annual Review of Military Studies 2019 Wim Klinkert, Myriame Bollen, Marenne Jansen, Henk de Jong, Eric-Hans Kramer, Lisette Vos, 2019-07-16 This book has as its subject matter the academic education of officers and builds on the signing of the Bologna Declaration in 1999 by twenty-nine European ministers for Education and Science who thereby agreed to coordinate higher education across Europe by, for instance, the implementation of the Bachelor's and Master's system. In the meantime, military academies have also introduced the BaMa system into their programs for officers' education, which marks a transition from the old days when officers' education took place within a national military system under military command and was firmly grounded in principles, traditions, and needs as professed by the Ministries of Defence and the armed forces in particular. So the Bologna Declaration can be seen as crucial leverage for the development of in-house academic degree programs as a fundamental part of officers' education. With this volume, the editors of NL ARMS 2019 strive to offer a platform to both academics and military and civilian practitioners, as well as to combinations of these, to reflect and share their thoughts on officers' education before and after Bologna, both in The Netherlands and abroad. To this end, controversies and challenges affecting various aspects and systems of officers' education have been grouped into five themes. Respectively, the first four themes comprise institutional settings and change, educational philosophy, educational challenges, and reflective practices and didactical solutions. The fifth theme, international perspectives, provides insights into the strategic environments and challenges faced by sister academies, as well as ways to further officers' education across Europe, such as offered by Erasmus programs. All the editors of this year's volume are affiliated with the Faculty of Military Sciences of the Netherlands Defence Academy in Breda, The Netherlands.
