Occupational Noise and Workplace Acoustics presents new innovative advanced research and evaluation methods of parameters characterizing acoustic field and noise in the working environment, as well as acoustic properties of rooms and noise reduction measures. This includes acoustic field visualization methods, field imaging techniques, wireless sensor networks, and the Internet of Things (IoT) optimization methods using genetic algorithms, acoustic quality assessment methods for rooms, and methods for measuring ultrasonic noise in the frequency range of 10-40 kHz. This book is a valuable resource for individuals and students interested in the areas of acoustic and sound engineering, as it provides the latest techniques and methods in the field of noise reduction and improvement of acoustic comfort. Innovative and advanced acoustic field visualization techniques for those with an auditory impairment, explains noise reduction through proper workplace design, discusses use of wireless sensor networks and the IoT for monitoring noise, and provides acoustic quality assessment methods. The authors' intention to expound on advanced issues in a lucid and accessible way was rewarded with success. In the book, an expert will find a number of hints helpful in solving actual problems, whereas a layperson will be able to form a view on challenges facing contemporary technology. What should also be emphasized is the book's soundness in documenting these advanced theses and postulates with diligently conducted empirical research.
