Lehrer, Robert Nolan, Martin Siepmann, 2023-04-24 The adaptive brain. 2. Vision, speech, language and motor control Stephen Grossberg, 1987 The Cybernetic Brain Andrew Pickering, 2010-04-15 Cybernetics is often thought of as a grim military or industrial science of control But as Andrew Pickering reveals in this beguiling book a much more lively and experimental strain of cybernetics can be traced from the 1940s to the present The Cybernetic Brain explores a largely forgotten group of British thinkers including Grey Walter Ross Ashby Gregory Bateson R D Laing Stafford Beer and Gordon Pask and their singular work in a dazzling array of fields Psychiatry engineering management politics music architecture education tantric yoga the Beats and the sixties counterculture all come into play as Pickering follows the history of cybernetics impact on the world from contemporary robotics and complexity theory to the Chilean economy under Salvador Allende What underpins this fascinating history Pickering contends is a shared but unconventional vision of the world as ultimately unknowable a place where genuine novelty is always emerging And thus Pickering avers the history of cybernetics provides us with an imaginative model of open ended experimentation in stark opposition to the modern urge to achieve domination over nature and each other Improving outcomes in cerebral palsy with early intervention: new translational approaches Anna Purna Basu, Gavin John Clowry, 2015-03-30 The aim of this Research Topic was to collate articles describing prediction of outcomes of pre and perinatal lesions leading to cerebral palsy basic research in animal models and human subjects and ideas for and trials of interventions in the first two years of life CP arises from insults to the sensorimotor cortex subcortical axon tracts and subplate The aetiology is complex and often multifactorial The outcome is not simply a loss of voluntary control due to disruption of descending pathways but also involves abnormal development of reflex and corticospinal circuitry CP may be viewed as aberrant plasticity in response to a lesion indeed abnormalities in movement are subtle at first but develop subsequently It is misleading to suppose that developmental mechanisms are self reparative The challenge is to understand activitydependent fine tuning of neural circuitry during normal development and to find how to promote desirable plasticity whilst limiting undesirable effects following developmental lesions However before proposing interventions we have to develop our ability to predict the severity of neonatal insults We solicited a variety of articles including long and short reviews original research and opinion pieces from both basic scientists and clinicians Likewise we as editors have complementary knowledge and experience in this area Anna Basu is an academic pediatric neurologist and Gavin Clowry is a developmental neuroscientist
