The Opossums Tale:

The Opossum's Tale Deborah L. Duvall,2005-12-01 Have you ever seen an opossum hurrying across the road with its eyes and coat shining in your headlights Or hanging upside down from a tree Or lying on the ground playing possum as if dead And did you ever wonder why the opossum acts this way The ancient Cherokee people wondered about the opossum whose silly grin and hairless tail caught their imagination In those days the people had no written language and they relied on stories to explain the behavior of the animals in their world According to Cherokee legend the Opossum owned a magnificent tail covered in glistening fur of which he was terribly proud The tail was so magnificent in fact that the Opossum thought it his duty to make everyone else appreciate it as well In this seventh volume of the Grandmother Stories Si qua the Opossum brags constantly about his tail until his neighbors can stand it no more Something must be done about him The prideful Si qua is overcome by loss and despair when his outer beauty is suddenly gone But an unexpected ally helps Si qua discover powerful abilities within himself that will soon win the true admiration of his friends Visit the authors website at www.jacobandduvall.com

The Raw and the Cooked Claude Lévi-Strauss,1983-03-15 In anthropological terms the concept of the raw versus the cooked has long been associated with the dichotomy between the natural world and the world of human culture In a broad based empirical study of native mythologies Claude Lévi Strauss proposes a structural and thematic link between the opposition of the raw and the cooked in mythological thought and man's attempt to establish a balanced relationship between natural and cultural forces Lévi Strauss postulates that the raw-cooked axis is characteristic of all human culture with elements falling along the raw side of the axis being those of natural origin and those on the cooked side being of cultural origin i.e products of human creation Symbolically cooking marks the transition from nature to culture by means of which the human state can be defined in accordance with all its attributes In mythological thought the cooking of food is in effect a form of mediation between nature and society between life and death and between heaven and earth The cook in turn can be viewed as a cultural agent whose function is to mediate the conjunction of the raw product and the human consumer the operation of which has the effect of making sure the natural is at once cooked and socialized *Cabramatta, and Woodleigh Farm.
